Making a splash

An afternoon splash was just what Mike Gorman, City of Westland Finance Director, needed after handling the city's finances. Gorman volunteered to unveil the new 150 foot waterslide the Bailey Recreation Swimming Pool now features. The pool, waterslide and new wading pool will be open for the spring season, Memorial Day weekend. MCN photo by Kimberly Woloskie

School board presses hunt for new director

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The hunt for a successor to long term Assistant Romulus Superintendent of Schools Dr. Terrel LeCesne will begin in earnest on Monday.

Superintendent Dr. William Bedell said he met earlier with the board's personnel committee to screen some of the Michigan-based educator applications the board has received.

The Personnel Committee is composed of School Board members Sandra Langley, Kenneth Berlinn and Julie Oleszkowicz.

Bedell said the committee picked out four or five potential finalists for the altered administrative position of director of personnel, but the total board has the right to dip into the names of other applicants, if any board member desires. It is not known if the finalists will actually be named following Monday night's board meeting or not.

Bedell said it is hoped that the selection of the Director of Personnel can be completed soon, so that he or she can begin here by November. But Bedell admits, a lot depends on the amount of time the successful candidate needs to complete work at his or her current job.

Near the end of the 25-year career of LeCesne in Romulus, he directed both the personnel and curriculum operations.

The board has opted to divide those responsibilities and first fill the Director of Personnel post and later hire a curriculum official.

New DARE officer has started duties

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus elementary school students will find a new face leading their Drug Awareness Resistance Education (DARE) classes this fall.

Darrin Wright, a 30-year-old father and seven-year police veteran, has assumed the major youth studies program currently being taught at all five Romulus School District elementary schools as well as St. Aloysius Catholic School.

Wright accepted the challenge a few weeks ago to succeed former DARE officer John Leacher. According to the current Romulus police contract, DARE officers (and others) need to be changed every three years to give more officers a chance to fill such posts at various stages of their police careers.

Wright has already been certified for DARE duties and actually has taught such classes in the past on a limited basis.

Being the father of a young daughter, Wright said has made him totally aware of the importance of the DARE program.

"I'm looking forward to improving my own communication skills with youth," he said, "because I know it will make me a much more effective officer as well as a dad."

Because of the limited time options available to take the week-long GREAT certifica-

Oakley insists 'I oppose injection well, won't accept its money'

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A determined William Oakley vows he will begin a door-to-door campaign in a few days to "refute the lies that I support the deep injection well project or have or will accept any Environmental Disposal Systems well funds for my campaign."

Oakley said some of his supporters have already been contacting voters in connection with Oakley's effort to unseat current Mayor Beverly McAnally this November.

"They told me I need to stress my opposition to the EDS well project," Oakley said at an interview in his campaign headquarters last Friday. Otherwise he quoted his election team as saying "we're out here trying to play the game without a ball."

Oakley, who was himself defeated by McAnally back in 1983, feels the community is seeking a choice in this year's mayoralty race, since it has not had one for the past 10 years or so.

Oakley, 65, who served as director of Wayne County Roads for more than two years after leaving the mayor's office, has worked as a general building contractor since then.

Campaigning on the theme "Bring Back Bill," Oakley stresses verbally as well as in his initial political handout "I do not want the well in Romulus any more than anyone else does. I'd like to think that had I been mayor at the time, the well would not be here."

"Unfortunately, it is here," Oakley continues "and the courts will decide the outcome."

The former mayor supplements his thoughts on the well issue by saying "Romulus is currently involved in the most damaging controversy in its history."

"The deep well issue has pitted neighbor against neighbor and friend against friend," he said.

Oakley said he also supports State Rep. Greg Pitoniak's (D-Taylor) anti-commercial well bill now pending in the Michigan House of Representatives.

On another hot local issue,

Oakley said "I feel strongly that we should not invite casino gambling into our community in an attempt to correct our financial problems."

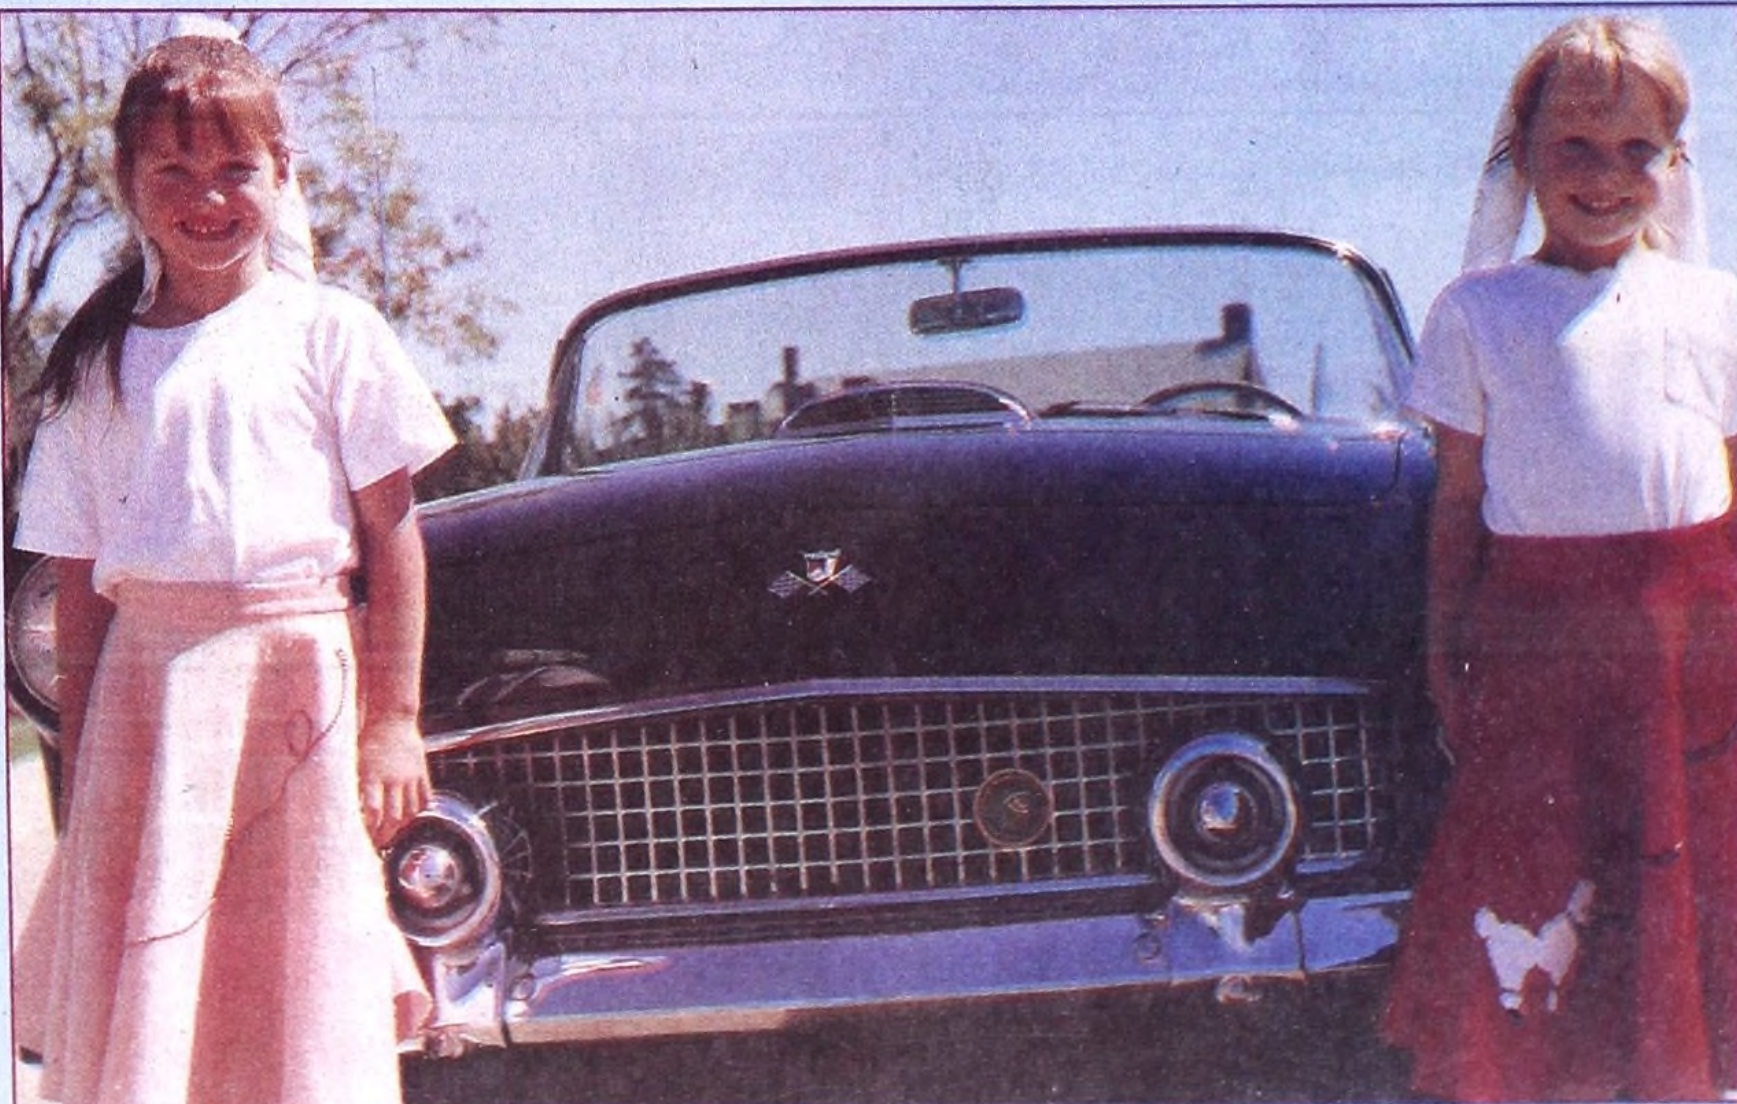

Unlike the current McAnally administration, Oakley said he would allow local residents to vote on an advisory casino referendum, that would tell governmental officials whether the majority of voters favored or opposed any gambling operations within the city.

McAnally and various city councilmen when questioned in the past on the referendum issue, always said casinos were illegal and thus they would not press for such a referendum.

Oakley said he plans to make the condition of city roads, the city's financial shape and relations with the

DIGEST

Only 4 precincts pull 100 voters

Other than the absentee ballot listing, only four of the city's 17 polling precincts pulled more than 100 voters for the city council primary on Sept. 12.

The top voting precincts included 5, 7, 11 and 18, City Clerk Linda Choate reported. The lowest were Precinct 9 with 31 voters turning out and Precinct 4 with 41 voters.

A total of 1,585 voters out of a possible 13,900 took time to vote that day to eliminate one candidate, Steven Bossidis, and to select their favorite seven candidates.

Veteran Councilman Randy Gear (203) and newcomer William Crova (201) were the only candidates to pull more than 200 of the possible 345 absentee ballots.

As in the general voting Bossidis finished low with the absentee voters with 48 tallies. Gear finished with a high of 956 votes. His personal high was 74 in Precinct 8 and his low was 15 in Precinct 9.

Newcomer Debbie Romak, who scored second with 794 votes, had a high in Precinct 11 with 66 votes and a low in Precinct 8 with 22 votes.

Third place finisher veteran Councilman William Wadworth, who gained 767 votes, scored high in Precinct 7 with 75 votes and low in Precinct 9 with 15 votes.

Library Club plans sale

The Romulus Friends of the Library Club is planning its annual used book sale Monday through Wednesday from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. in the library.

Bag day will be Sept. 30, Chairman Marjory Bock revealed, at which time customers will be able to purchase a bag of books for a further discounted price.

That sale will run from noon to 5 p.m.

Romulus Marine finishes training

Scott Lange, a June graduate of Romulus High School, has graduated from basic training in the U.S. Marine Corps at Parris Island in South Carolina.

Lange joined the Marines in the delayed entry program in June 1994 and after graduating from high school, reported for duty at Parris Island.

He earned a sharpshooter with the M-16 award. He is in K Company Platoon 3014.

He is the son of Raymond Lange Sr. of Alabama and Judith Frazier of Romulus and is the grandson of Marvin and Virginia Lange of Belleville and James and Ethelyn Wade of Romulus.

He is planning on returning to duty as a specialized motor transport member soon. A welcome home party was conducted in his honor by family members.

Student earns college scholarship

Sarah Poletti of Romulus has won a $3,000 recognition of excellence scholarship from Eastern Michigan University.

The scholarship provides $1,500 per year to Poletti based on her scores in the American College Test/Scholastic Aptitude Tests and her high school grade point average.

To maintain the scholarship, the student must complete 12 credit hours each semester and attain at least a 3.3 grade point average.

Bike safety skills presented

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

More than 40 Romulus youth turned out recently for a bicycle safety program sponsored by the Romulus Police Department's Traffic Safety Bureau.

Former Traffic Officer Jerome Yoscovits said the safety program was conducted at the Metro Mobile Trailer Park playground on Sept. 9.

Yoscovits said he was assisted by patrol Officers Joe Richardson (community watch director) and John Leacher (former DARE officer).

"Since I first offered the bicycle safety program last year," Yoscovits said, "the programs have expanded and the attendance has greatly increased." Bicycle inspections and no charge bicycle registration sticker presentations are part of the program, Yoscovits said.

The program was designed to provide bicycle inspection skills for bike riders, he said, as well as the knowledge that bicycle safety is everyone's responsibility.

Yoscovits said he is deeply impressed with the parents, who joined their children at this summer's safety program.

Crop Walk

Communities join effort to aid hungry

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The 13th annual Belleville-Romulus CROP Walk to raise money for the hungry (locally and around the world) will be conducted on Oct. 1, coordinator Father John Hagan reported Tuesday.

Hagan, pastor of the Trinity Episcopal Church, said that those planning on walking are currently seeking pledges from church members and the public at large.

Hundreds of walkers are expected to gather about 1:15 p.m. at the Community United Methodist Church parking lot in Romulus just prior to the annual walk, Hagan said.

Four other churches in addition to the two already named congregations will join in the fund raising project. They include St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church, Belleville United Methodist Church, Belleville Presbyterian Church and Faith United Methodist Church.

Hagan, who has coordinated the local walk for the past six years, said the CROP Walk is conducted the first Sunday in October each year. More than 130 other walks are staged in cities throughout Michigan.

The local walk last year attracted 270 participants and raised over $17,000, Hagan said.

Two top governmental officials, Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally and Van Buren Township Supervisor David Jakobs, will speak briefly to the walkers in Romulus prior to the start. The winding six mile walk will end at the Trinity Episcopal Church in Belleville.

"We talk about needs all the time," Hagan said. "People need to eat, people need to have clean water. Those are real needs. One quarter of the monies raised will help people in local communities through the Belleville Emergency Food Closet, St. Vincent de Paul of Belleville and the Romulus Helping Hand facility."

The remaining 75 percent will be transferred to other areas of the world facing various types of devastation, such as Oklahoma City, St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, and other sites of need in the U.S., Africa and Asia, Hagan said.

"Church World Service prides itself not in being the first into a disaster area, but in being the last to leave," Hagan said.

"Local businesses already have contributed more than $600 so far this year, along with pizzas and orange juice for the walkers at the end of the day" Hagan said.

One major change this year, Hagan said, is that walkers will be able to accept donations prior to the walk, as well as pledges for kilometers walked.

"A lot of people are turned off by having to collect the money after the walk," Hagan said, "so we are just making it easier for people to contribute to this worthwhile cause."

Last year the local CROP Walk organizers were able to present $4,300 checks to three Romulus and Belleville agencies and sent another $13,000 to national and worldwide hunger areas, Hagan concluded.

For further information Belleville residents may call Hagan's office at 699-3361. Those in Romulus can call the Community United Methodist Church at 941-0736.

Explorers' Post planned

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A new Romulus Police Department Explorer Post will be created following an opening meeting at 7 p.m. Monday under the direction of new youth officer Jeff Lazarski and his predecessor Rosemary Cooper.

Lazarski and Cooper said the police training program will be open to youth, both male and female between the ages of 15 and 20. Parents of the youth are urged to attend the initial meeting at the police station at Olive and Bibbins.

Lazarski recently replaced Cooper as city youth officer following a series of staff changes called for by the police officers' contract.

The group could grow to about a dozen youth, Lazarski said, and following training will be assigned to designated certified police officers for involvement in various police assignments.

"The explorer program is ideal for youth considering a possible career in police work or similar professions," Lazarski said.

The explorers post will meet every other week for several hours a night, he said, and will include weapons training at the police pistol range.

Explorer participants will be suited up with police uniforms, Lazarski said, including hats, shirts, pants and jackets. Fund raisers will probably be conducted to raise supplemental funds for the purchase of such uniforms and gear, he said.

For further information contact Lazarski at 942-6877.

New writers' group to form

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Have you ever had a desire to write poetry, fiction or current event stories?

Or have you ever had an interest in rubbing shoulders with other published writers?

Well your opportunity could develop at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 2 at the Romulus Public Library, as a soon-to-be developed Writers Group is formed.

Free lance writer Jan Conrad of Romulus invites writers or would-be writers to join in the opening session at the library. The meeting is expected to last about 90 minutes.

The writing styles of those attending the first session could dictate the early stress the group will take.

"Most writing clubs specialize in one or two key areas, such as fiction or poetry," Conrad said, "thus the specialty of the largest number of writers in the early series of meetings could determine what writing area the club will focus on in early months."

Conrad, who works at Greenfield Village in Dearborn as a story teller and historical presenter, urges any interested parties to either attend the meeting or to call the library (942-7589) for further updates.

school district major issues in the fall campaign.

"We need to promote cooperation with our schools," Oakley said, "not (be embattled) with constant conflict" between the two governmental units.

Asked how he would repair the city's relations with School Superintendent Dr. William Bedell, Oakley said, "we would work as two businessmen together, just as we have done in the past."

Oakley said he has also heard of dissatisfaction among city employees about current working conditions and city positions on various political issues.

While he hopes to build a working consensus on the city council when he becomes mayor, Oakley said, he does not foresee any plans to endorse any of the current 14 council candidates.

The election is slated for Nov. 7 and is expected to draw well over 3,000 voters. Voter registration deadline for the November election is Oct. 2, according to City Clerk Linda Choate.

tion program, Wright said Leacher will continue with that program at the Romulus Middle School for at least a semester.

The GREAT program picks up where the DARE program climaxes, Wright explains, stressing Gang Resistance Education and Training. To teach a GREAT program, Wright will need to take the studies at a federal facility (probably) in Georgia.

"I'm excited to have the chance to make a difference in youngsters lives here," Wright said, "and if I can save just one kid from a life of drug abuse, I'll feel the effort was worth while."

Wright began his new role several weeks ago by meeting the principals and sixth grade teachers, he will be working with at the local schools. This week Wright actually entered the classrooms to begin his DARE assignments.

Students at all levels need to know how to handle peer pressure, Wright said, and there is no better place to start that education than in the local elementary schools.

Students today also need to begin building their self-esteem and learn alternative ways to have fun, Wright said.

The young officer said he needs no other motivation than reading the local newspaper and seeing daily the continual decline in family relationships in Romulus, as in most other cities across the U.S.

"Seeing violence abound today across the nation and Canada, even at very young levels, gives DARE officers the stimulus to know that we must succeed," Wright said.

Romulus fire chief promotes education

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

As the role of firefighter changes dramatically in Romulus, Fire Chief William Greenslait praises the fact that the dedication and education efforts by his staff keeps Romulus deaths extremely low.

Greenslait, who became Romulus fire chief in 1987, revealed there were no fire deaths in Romulus in 1994, three (all in the same fire) in 1993 and one in 1992.

The majority of calls to the fire department today are called rescue runs, Greenslait said, meaning the firefighters are responding to serious traffic accidents, heart attacks, breathing problems and other health emergencies, rather than fire calls.

Part of the reason, Greenslait observes, is because senior citizens are living longer and thus such problems occur more often today than in yesteryear.

Greenslait said the department will spend approximately $14,000 this year just for education needs.

Such education programs for his staff, as well as the public, are saving lives and reducing heavy damage to buildings, both domestic as well as business and industrial.

One education matter that has not caught on across the land yet, Greenslait said, is the need to upgrade indoor environments. Dry and dusty air in homes and businesses, add to physical problems, as do too limited cleanings of heating and cooling air ducts.

Fire prevention efforts in the schools and other areas have paid off in the saving of lives in Romulus, as well as other communities, Greenslait said.

In addition to classroom visits and open houses at local fire stations, Greenslait said, communication brochures and free gifts offered by business organizations have helped tremendously.

Two such recent donations, Greenslait said, are smoke detector batteries furnished by the Everyready Corp. and child-resistant cigarette lighters offered by the Cricket Co.

Another recent involvement of the Romulus Fire Department is its working as part of the area "hazmat" teams that protect the area from hazardous waste contamination, basically the Downriver Emergency Response Team and the Western Wayne County Hazmat Team.

The Romulus Fire Department began back in 1941 and currently has 51 firefighters and three openings.

Working with Greenslait are Deputy Fire Chief Robert Pecenye, Fire Marshall David Allison, and Battalion Chiefs Bill Daughenbaugh, Jerry Ladach and Don Schmidt.

Four women also serve with the local firefighters including Dawn Kelly, Karen Nightingale, Maryanne Cleaver and Rhonda Kiesznowski.

The city's four fire stations are located at 37230 Northline (Station 1), 7221 Middlebelt Road (Station 2), 6900 Wayne Road (Station 3) and 28777 Eureka Road (Station 4).

Police chief leads fight against crime

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Back in May 1981, Romulus organized its initial 10-member police department.

One of those 10 officers was a young policeman named Daryl Poe.

Today Poe is the department's police chief and the force has grown to include 52 sworn officers with two positions still waiting to be filled.

Among those sworn officers are four women, one of whom is Detective Sgt. Cora Semrau, who handles many of the city's domestic and sexual abuse cases and three patrol officers.

Poe admits that drugs and alcohol problems are the major problem the Romulus police face each day. "If you eliminated those substance abuse cases, we could probably still be operating with a 10-member department," Poe says.

But the spin off of drug and alcohol abuse cases takes many forms, Poe admits. Some relate to the need to illegally obtain money to buy such substances and the other end of the spectrum involves what happens after local residents consume drugs and alcohol—namely family and spousal abuse cases.

On the other hand having the city's Special Investigation's unit headed by Lt. David Early working with state and federal drug officials, helps the city obtain many drug forfeiture funds.

Sharing the money from such forfeitures has helped the Romulus Police Department purchase many needed pieces of technology and vehicles such as the expensive DARE van.

"Just last week we received a drug forfeiture check for $2,700," Poe admitted. Many state and federal checks far exceed that amount but are now presented on a case by case basis.

Years ago local police leaders created its official mission statement that vows: The Romulus Police Department is to have a positive influence on the quality of life for all persons within the community by providing innovative leadership and the highest quality law enforcement activities, while respecting individual rights and privileges."

Since substance abuse problems cut across the entire spectrum of age, race and religious lines, Poe said, it is important that the local police get out and meet people on a positive note.

Thus Romulus police have created three Neighborhood Watch programs, a DARE program in the local elementary schools, a GREAT (gang resistance) program at the middle school and even McGruff the Crime Dog, who is the favorite of many younger students, who are aware that he definitely battles to "take a bite out of crime."

This summer a five-member Police Bike Patrol was formed to give police a more casual and friendly image at outdoor events (such as festivals) and citizens more chances to converse with them in a non-confrontational atmosphere.

But the bike patrollers also provide other functions, Poe admitted, as they are used occasionally to snuff out drug deals.

"It's surprising sometimes to see how effective they are in catching drug dealers red-handed," Poe said.

THANKS

FOR PROTECTING and SERVING OUR COMMUNITY.

I support your efforts.

William M. Oakley
Candidate
Mayor of Romulus

Paid for by Oakley for Mayor Committee

We are in the midst of celebrating our one year anniversary at Michigan Community Newspapers this week and I am reminded of what I told one of our route drivers, Mike Ross, on the day the purchase announcement was made, "I am either very stupid or totally unafraid of challenges. We will know within a year."

Mike's musings
Mike Wilcox

The old Associated Newspapers group had a long track record of excellent journalism. However, despite writing successes, the company was not sound financially. When I decided to purchase the newspaper group, my lawyer and accountant did all they could short of involuntary committal, to dissuade me.

With the help of a dedicated staff, we began to breathe life into the old newspaper. We added color, made headlines more interesting, remade the Sunday product, and gave away lots of money and prizes.

We asked our staff to work harder than they ever had. They responded enthusiastically. It is an unusual group of people that work for this newspaper. Each and every one really cares about the products that we produce. I've never been a part of a team that works so hard and shares so much as the group at Michigan Community Newspapers.

The obvious answer to Mike Ross is WE were willing to take on the challenge. This group of newspapers and this area we call Western Wayne, is full of life and opportunity. Without the thousands of people who read our pages or the business people who pay good money to have their messages placed on our pages, success would only be a dream. Thanks to you we've worked the opportunity and are living the dream. We hope you will allow us to continue for many years to come.

Talk about hard working, successful people. Here's a few that deserve acknowledgement.

Longtime Romulus school administrator, Dr. Terrel LeCesne was recently chosen Superintendent of Schools in Inkster. LeCesne, who has written several columns over the years for this newspaper, has a clear grasp of the education issues, both local and national, as well as a wonderful feel for the Inkster community and its people, having resided here for many years. In my opinion, Inkster school officials couldn't have made a better choice.

Congrats are in order for Judge Carolyn Archbold who was recently named president of the Michigan Judges Association. Judge Archbold who presides in Wayne is well respected by her peers and will handle her statewide chores with class and enthusiasm.

Hats off to men, women in blue

Our six community newspapers are in the midst of a special salute to police officers and firefighters.

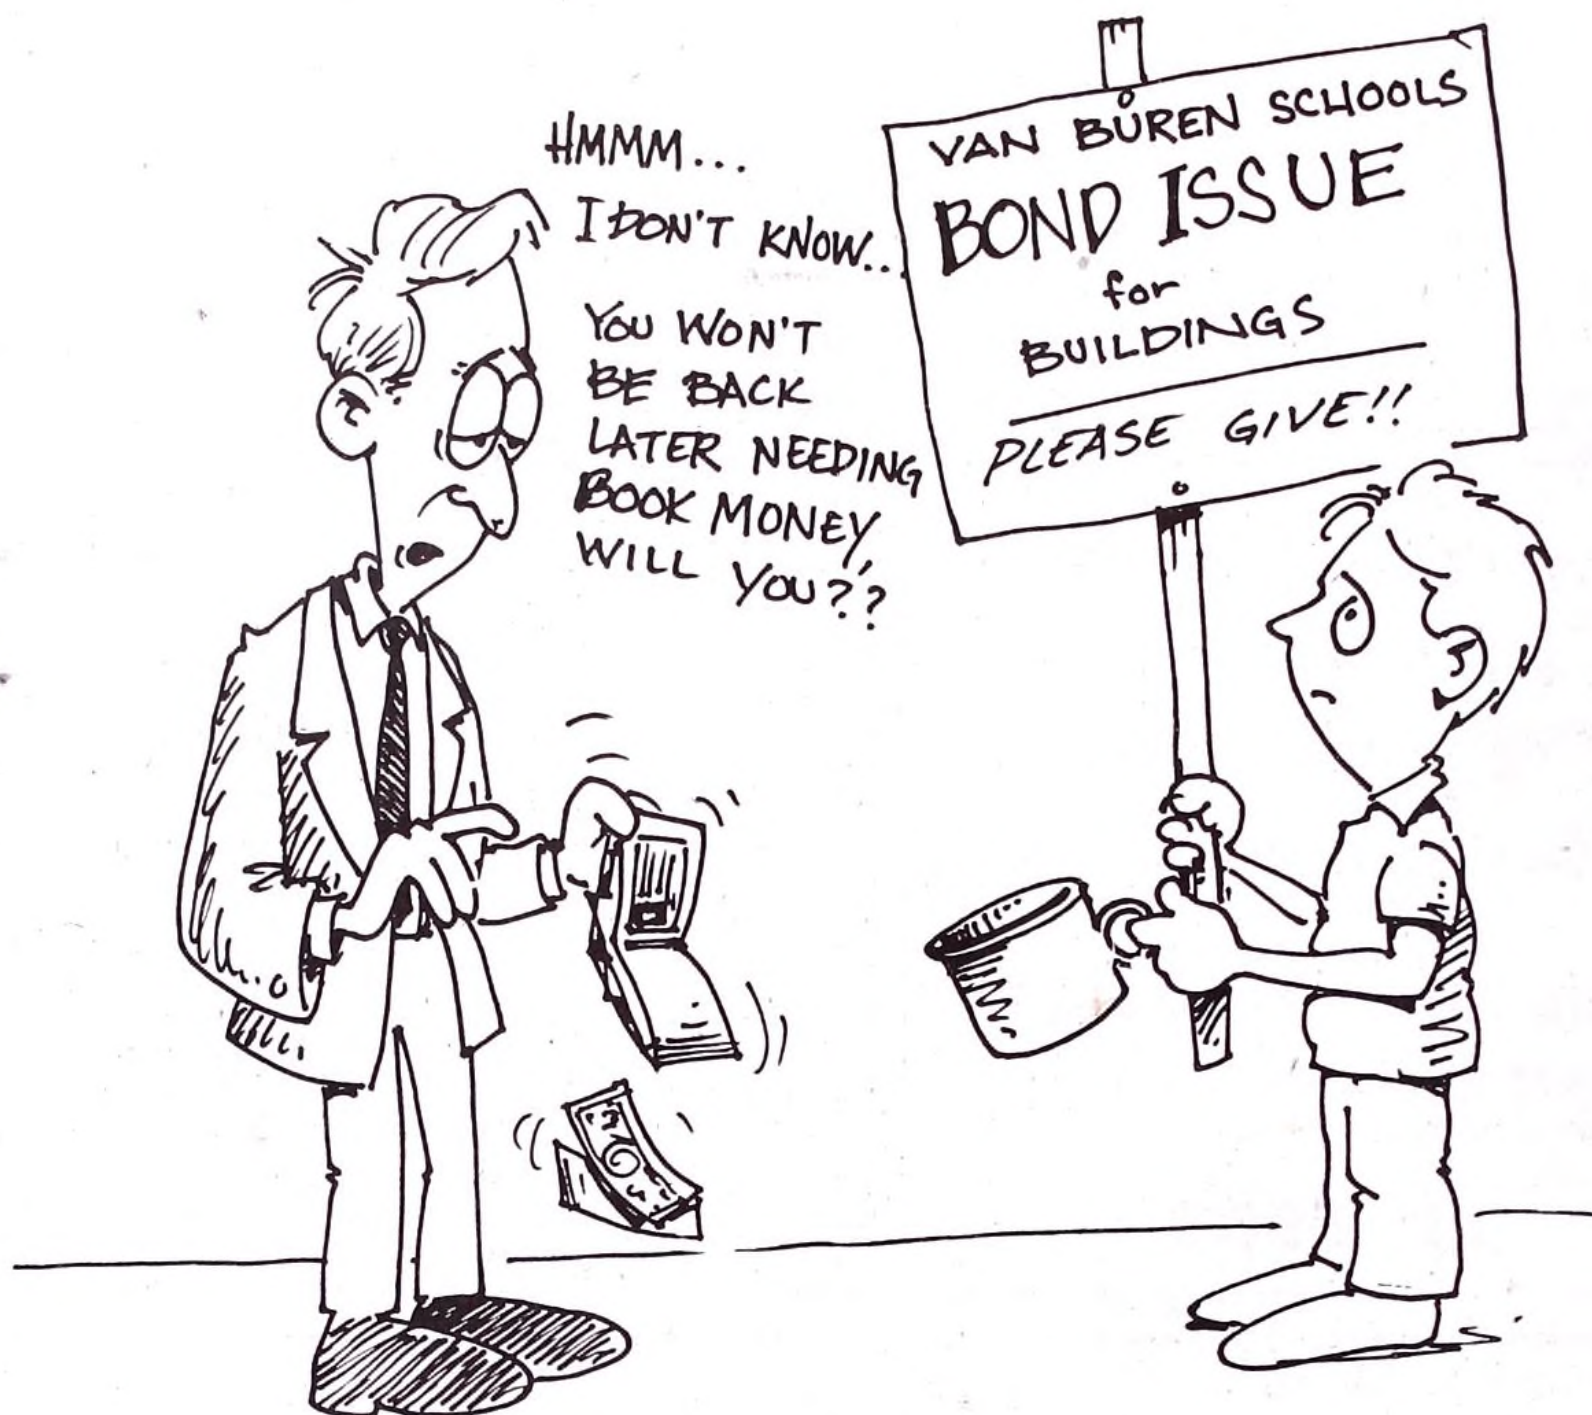

Last week we congratulated our police and fire officials from Inkster and Wayne. This week we honor Belleville and Romulus police and fire departments. Next week the accolades go to Westland and Canton.

It is important to note that these dedicated men and women place their lives on the line each and every day. It's a tough job and they deserve our support.

They also devote countless hours — some on duty and some as volunteers — to promote drug and crime prevention programs and fire safety education.

Unfortunately, the community tends to take them for granted until a time of crisis. It is only then when we truly appreciate their dedication, skills and professionalism.

We join the business community and residents of the Michigan Community Newspapers' circulation area to thank our men and women in blue for a job well done — every day.

Bond vote opposed

To the editor:
During the months of July and August the Belleville Area Republican Club (BARC) received requests for information regarding the upcoming Van Buren Township School District Bond and Sinking Fund Millage Proposal.

Because no members of BARC were familiar with the specific reasons justifying the Proposals, the BARC membership decided during its August Meeting that information regarding the Proposals should be made available to the public through an open forum/debate between a representative of the School District and any other individual in the community who was educated on the issue who presented a differing viewpoint. The primary goal of the debate was to provide information regarding the positives and negatives of the Proposals to the voters who could then make an educated decision about the upcoming ballot question.

As late as Sept. 12, afternoon a final effort was made by BARC President Thomas A. White to salvage some type of debate/forum for Sept. 23, 1995. However, no agreement could be reached on the mechanics of how the forum would be conducted. Superintendent Richendollar would agree to participate if he and Mr. Kovach were both given an opportunity to speak but would not agree to accept questions after his speech from Mr. Kovach. Meanwhile, Mr. Kovach refused to participate in any type of forum that would not allow him to ask questions of Superintendent Richendollar about the proposals.

BARC is disappointed that a true exchange of ideas on the merits of the two ballot Proposals will not occur. Further, it appears that the focus of the superintendent is not on presenting the merits of the Proposals but on convincing the voters to vote yes. BARC believes that if the proposals were truly necessary to the district, then that information would be disseminated to the public regardless any argument being promulgated by Mr. Kovach.

BARC voted at its September meeting to oppose both the proposals for reasons that the Van Buren Township School Board has displayed a lack of justification for the money.

BARC does support education but does not believe that the current proposals help education. Rather, the requested money would simply in debt a generation over the next 25 years.

The School Board has used the needed repairs to some schools as a vehicle to sell the millage proposal to the voters, even though the bulk of the money will not be used for repairing those damaged schools but will be used to manufacture a new swimming pool and band room. The School Board has not listened to the voters and has brought to the public a proposal that is unworkable for a variety of reasons too long to list in this press release. BARC would ask the voters to vote no on both proposals, and ask the School Board to bring back a realistic proposal in the future that addresses the needs of the District.

Thomas White
BARC president

Social Security has a winner

To the editor:
A local Inkster woman was the lucky winner of a contest held by the Inkster Social Security office in commemoration of the 60th Anniversary of Social Security on Aug. 14, 1995.

The Social Security office sponsored the contest which asked how many Social Security cards were processed in their office during the month of July. Barbara Bounds made the lucky (closest) guess. The actual number was 835.

Punch, cake and home-made cookies, donated by the staff, were available for visitors to the office on that day and for several days thereafter. There were historical displays, bookmarks and special anniversary pamphlets on hand. Several local government representatives participated by presenting special Social Security proclamations either in person or by mail.

We wish to thank everyone who participated in making the 60th Anniversary celebration so successful and congratulations to Barbara Bounds who won a U.S. flag which was flown over the U.S. Capitol on Aug. 14, 1995 in commemoration of the 60th Anniversary of Social Security.

Survey requests views on abortion issues from callers

Political parties are heavily divided even within themselves as to, not only the moral and legal questions, but whether or not the issue of abortion belongs in the arena of political debate.

Many citizens who have taken lifelong stands on abortion find the issue more difficult to define when faced directly with tough decisions within their own families.

Opponents of abortion claim it to be paramount to murder and should be dealt with as such. Some strongly advocate local, state and national legislation totally banning legal abortions with stiff penalties for convicted offenders. More moderate opponents advocate fewer stringent standards but generally push for the elimination of any type of government subsidies to be used to pay for abortions, except in cases of rape or incest.

Proponents of "the right to choose" movement have taken a general stand that life begins at birth, not at conception. They claim that any government legislation to ban abortion infringers on the woman's sole right to make these type of important personal decisions. Many activities want full government funding for abortions, claiming an abortion is a health care procedure just like any other medical treatment. Others state the need for abortion as a form of birth control to deal with the problem of mushrooming population growth.

Do you favor government action to outlaw abortions? Dial 1-900- 510-9099 for tallies only before midnight Sept. 23. Use identification number XXXX. If you wish to call in supporting comments use the number 1-900-756-4888.

If you support an outright government ban on abortions, press "1"

If you support a woman's "right to choice" abortion and government funding for most abortions, press "2"

If you support a woman's "right to choice" abortion without any government funding on most abortions, press "3"

You must be 18 or older to participate. Tallies cost 99 cents each with additional costs for comments, which are billed at 99 cents per minute.

Survey results for tobacco-sponsored sports question of week ending Sept. 9, 1995: 22 percent favored a ban on cigarette brand advertised sporting events and 78 percent opposed a ban on cigarette brand advertised sporting events.

newsletter (printed and mailed at our expense) fails to reflect the high school renovation after the "fire" and the major additions completed since then ... it leads one to believe that it is 89 years old.

The board's cries about the need for maintenance and upgrading, but they fail to mention the years of neglect that they were entrusted by us...to maintain those structures.

The board fails to mention that they basically "gave way three school buildings," again at our expense.

The board neglects to tell us that they continue to purchase the hospitalization insurance from the teachers union - at above current market costs - again at our expense.

The board does not mention that when the teachers contract gives the teaching staff a salary raise - it only takes about eight months for the administrators receive a like raise - again at our expense.

But the fraud of the October bond proposal is the fact that no one on the school board has acknowledged that the Michigan House of Representatives this summer passed House Bill 4657 that will increase the percentage of state income tax revenues earmarked for the school aid fund from the current 14.4 percent to 29 percent. The state has doubled school aid.

Responsible voters (taxpayers) should ignore the school administrations double-talk, pay no heed to the cry for their cronies and make the big spenders that run the system live within their means - just like you and I have to!

Vote no on both proposals on Oct. 2 - but most important go vote. By not voting you are casting a yes.

Cooler weather ahead

Cloudy skies will keep things cool today, with a 30 percent chance of showers. Temperatures will be moderate in the 60s during the day and cool down dramatically into the 30s at night.

Friday showers remain a possibility all day, with daytime temperatures dropping into the 50s and lows once again in the mid-30s at night.

The weekend will begin with dry conditions, possibly even some sunshine. Daytime temperatures will be in the 50s again and fall to the 30s at night.

Weatherman Al's tip: Just a reminder, leaves will probably be dropping almost about the same time that they change into their fall colors. If your rake is not handy, you better begin searching for it.

Price Wise auto guide is money-saver for buyers

Price Wise is off and running again. The Price Wise section is a special classified auto section in the six Thursday Michigan Community Newspaper publications, and is designed to save readers a significant amount of money on new and used cars.

Price Wise was the brainstorm of a MCN advertising representative who thought the classified auto section should have a larger selection and be easier to read. The idea was to offer the Price Wise ads at a cost that the auto dealers couldn't refuse, and to make all of the advertisements the same size — much bigger than they normally would be in any paper. The result is that our readers have larger, cleaner, easier to read auto ads with a price that is very affordable. We invite our readers to take advantage of our newly revived section and let the Price Wise auto section work for them in helping to select a quality new or used car.

Fall color change begins

Michigan's 18-million acres of forests — with 150 different species of trees — are beginning the annual autumn color change to reds, yellows, golds and orange hues.

Weather conditions in early September largely determine the success of the fall color display. If there are bright, sunny days and cool nights, a good show can be expected. Daylight length is also significant. Shorter days cause leaves to stop producing chlorophyll and lose their green color.

Baby still fighting, fund continues to grow

By HEATHER NEEDHAM
MCN Staff Writer

Ricki Kahl has her good days and bad days, but she is still fighting despite having 10 percent liver function and needing a transplant.

Fund raising efforts have yielded $117,000 since August, according to family spokesperson Diana Wacker.

"The numbers change every day," Wacker said. The biggest fund raiser so far was the Labor Day weekend fund raiser at Wiard's orchard in Ypsilanti, which brought in $23,000 from the raffles and the admission fees.

Ricki has been moved from intensive care to a regular room in University of Michigan Hospitals in Ann Arbor. She is receiving blood transfusions and has 10 percent liver function stemming from liver failure.

Because of a congenital disorder, Ricki was born with her intestines outside her stomach, a condition called gastroschisis, which caused her to require tube-feeding.

The tube feeding caused the liver failure, Wacker said. Ricki needs an intestine and liver transplant, which will cost $470,000. The family must raise $200,000 themselves.

"People have been so much more than generous," Wacker said of the fund raising.

Ricki was taken off the transplant list in late August, but put back on after Labor Day, Wacker said. The family is looking into getting help from COTA (Children's Organ Transplant Association) with fund raising. The foundation assists families with fund raising, negotiating with hospitals for lower transplant costs, and other related activities.

COTA allows corporations to make donations, because it is a foundation and not a private person, Wacker said.

Upcoming fund raisers include:

Sept. 24: 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Westland Kmart, 165 S. Wayne Road. It will feature raffles, prizes, hot dogs and a clown.

Oct. 6: A spaghetti dinner hosted by Dario's Place. The dinner will take place in Melvindale, at a rented hall. For more information, call Dario's at 722-1820.

The dinner will cost $5 for adults, and $3 for children.

Donations can be sent to: Ricki Kahl Transplant Fund, P.O. Box 506, Flat Rock, Mich. 48134.

Open house

Environmental waste facility plays host to community visitors

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

Although the open house was not scheduled to open until noon Sunday, by 11:30 a.m. visitors begin lining up at the gate to EQ, the Environmental Protection Facility in Van Buren Township, to get a first-hand look at the operation.

A steady stream of visitors continued to tour the facility until 4 p.m.

Employees drove vans around the facility to provide visitors with an overview of the operation from start to finish, while narrators explained the operations and answered questions posed to them by the public.

As usual, the Willow Farms Greenhouse, where herbs, salad greens and flowering plants are grown hydroponically (in water, without soil) was one of the high points of the tour with visitors.

Hot and cold cider plus popcorn and doughnuts were served to the visitors, who also received complimentary basil plants from the greenhouse.

Enough waste was collected during the Sept. 27 Fall Clean-Up to fill 3,600 five-gallon gas cans, and a total of 306 cars dropped off approximately 18,000 gallons of various household hazardous wastes.

The second annual event was staged at the facility which includes a state-of-the-art hazardous waste treatment plant and the state's only commercially available waste landfill.

"Providing safe and responsible hazardous waste management services is our business," said EQ Vice President of Hazardous Waste Operations David Lusk. "Fall Clean-Up allows us to give something back to the community by using our expertise to help our neighbors safely manage their household hazardous waste."

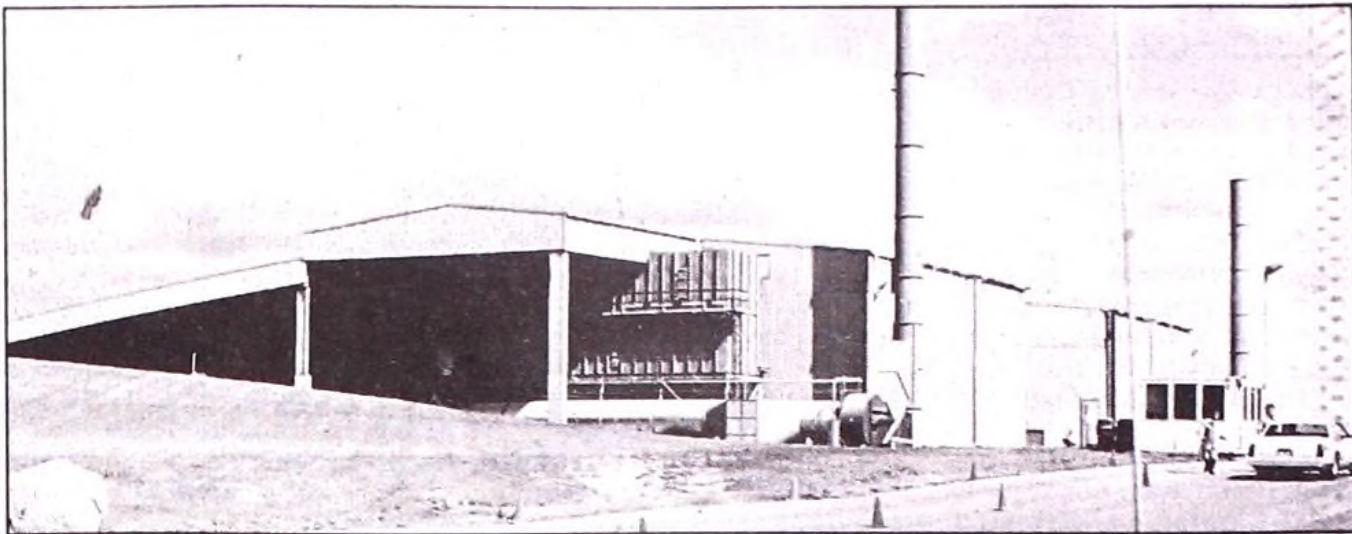

Among the visitors was Wayne County Commissioner Bruce Patterson of Canton who toured the facility for the first time.

"This was a good opportunity for people to learn more about hazardous waste management, and to have their questions answered," said Patterson.

Old paint, used motor oil plus automotive and household batteries were the most popular disposal items during the Fall Clean-Up. Household cleaners, automobile fluids and aerosol cans also were dropped off in large quantities.

Nearly one-third of the participants came from Belleville or Van Buren Township and 10 percent were from Canton Township. Other participants came from Sumpter Township, Romulus and Washtenaw County communities.

Detective work

Shotgun murder forms plot for mystery book

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

The same setting that produced the delightful animal tales by James Harriott is currently the location of a modern day mystery.

In the Yorkshire countryside an accountant is brutally murdered – gang style – with a shotgun blast to the back of his head prompting an investigation that is full of twists and turns.

The first surprise that the investigating team uncovers is that the quiet businessman has led a second, separate life – one of which his family and neighbors are totally unaware.

Author Peter Robinson, a native of Yorkshire, England, himself, gives the readers an ample serving of intrigue and mystery in his seventh Inspector Banks book, Final Account. “I got the idea from some

“I decided to focus on the double life in the newest Inspector Banks mystery.”
- Peter Robinson

real-life situations where people have lived a double life, among them a recent incidence in England,” said Robinson on his visit to Wayne last week. “I decided to focus on the double life in the newest Inspector Banks mystery.”

In addition, Robinson brought in a modern money laundering scheme and set the stage in the area where the author grew up and lived for many years.

“Detective Chief Inspector Banks is a transplant from southern England to the north of England, so he can look at things from a detached viewpoint,” Robinson said of his main character. “He tends to take a more humanistic approach to his work. He likes people – likes them for who they are. Still, he gets his job done.”

“He likes his pint of beer, he is fond of music, and he has a wife. She is as independent as he, and each doesn’t need the other as an anchor,” Robinson said.

“Readers will find that this story has a strong sense of place – a strong feel for Yorkshire, almost like being there,” Robinson said. “The place can be almost like a character in a mystery series.”

Robinson grew up in Leeds, Yorkshire, and now resides in Toronto.

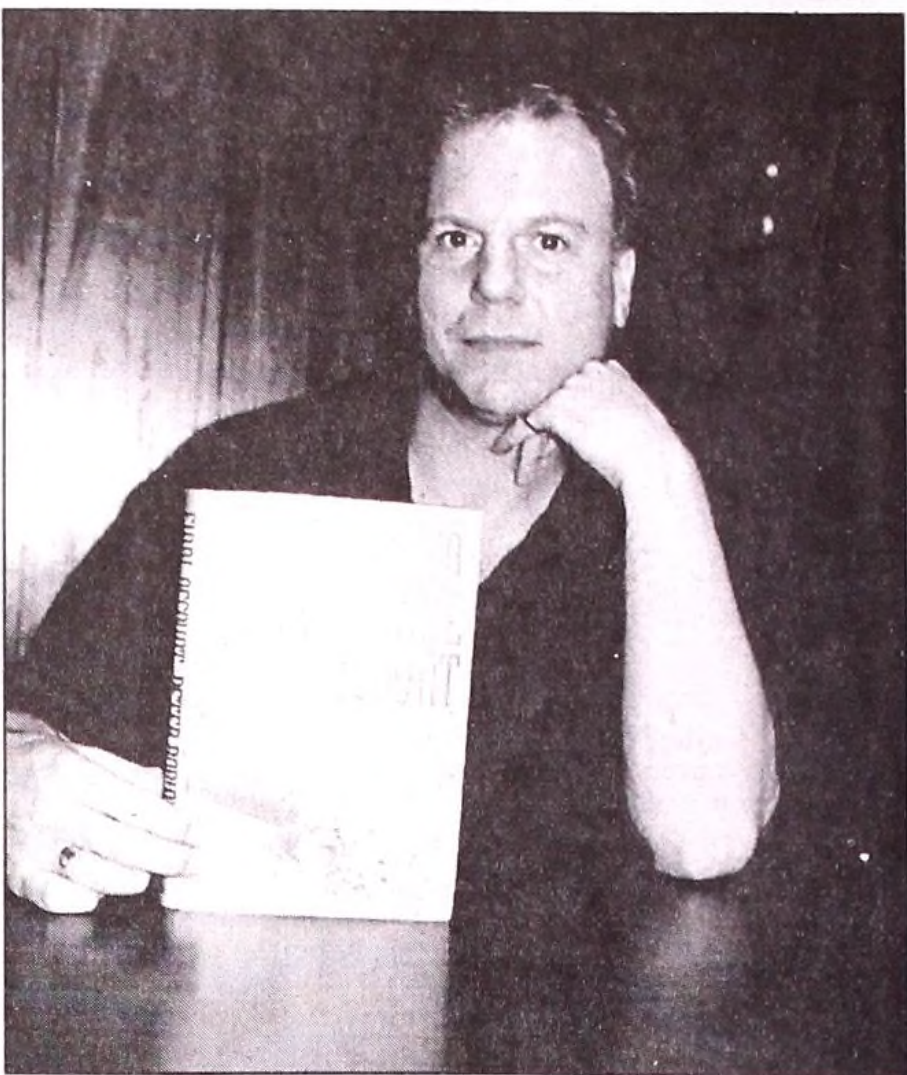

“I have a background in literature, and in the early ‘80s I started reading detective fiction and decided it would be worth a try. Prior to that I wrote poetry and short stories,” Robinson said.

His mystery novels were first published in Britain and in 1990 he obtained a U.S. publisher.

Robinson has been nominated for an Edgar Award by the Mystery Writers of America, won the Crime Writers of Canada Best Novel Award and the CWC Best Short Story Award and was a finalist for Britain’s John Creasey award.

His past books are Gallows View, A Dedicated Man, A Necessary End, The Hanging Valley, Past Reason Hated, and Wednesday’s Child.

His latest book is a Berkley Prime Crime Book by the Berkley Publishing Group and is available in area bookstores.

sioned to do 35 portraits of outstanding contemporary feminists to be hung in the permanent collection of the Women’s Hall of Fame in Seneca Falls, New York.

Hill-Burnett has studied women in the USSR and China. She has been a guest of both the Soviet government and the Chinese government to study the status of women.

Her recent book is entitled True Colors: An Artists’ Journey From Beauty Queen to Feminist. “Her life is a colorful rainbow of experiences as diverse as beauty symbol, portrait artist of the famous and infamous, international feminist and Hall of Fame Honoree,” said YWCA of Western Wayne Director Corinne Vincent.

Her contributions have been rewarded with an admittance to the Ohio Hall of Fame in 1987, the Michigan’s Women

Hall of Fame in 1988 and was chose Michigan Woman of the Year in 1993.

The YWCA program presents awards in six categories of women who have demonstrated qualities of outstanding leadership and excellence in both their professional and personal endeavors for the betterment of Wayne County.

The categories are arts/communications, business industry, government/law, professions, volunteers services and young women (ages 16-23).

The awards luncheon will be at noon, Friday Nov. 3 at the Fairlane Club, 5000 Woodview Lane, Dearborn. Cost for tickets is $25 each, tables of 10 may be reserved.

Autumn arrives

Metropark features fall canoe tours for residents

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

One of the best places to observe the subtle signs of the changing season is while canoeing along the backwaters of the Huron River.

While private crafts can navigate the river at any time before the waters freeze, a ride on the 18-passenger canoe, The Huron, provides an outstanding view of the stream and the adjacent countryside—plus a narration by veteran naturalist Glenn Dent.

After some 20 years with the Huron-Clinton Metroparks, there is little about the river and its environs that Dent does not know.

One of the popular attractions at Oakwoods Metropark is the giant canoe, a replica of those used by the French fur traders in the 18th century. The canoe, approximately 36-feet-long, is the same type of craft that the traders loaded with furs and paddled around the area rivers and even into the Great Lakes.

"The French voyageurs paddled for 50 minutes and then took a 10 minute smoke break. At times they knelt in the canoe to get maximum speed from their positions in the bottom of the craft," Dent said. "Sometimes they sang to keep up the rhythm of the oars."

Those who take the first trip of the day help Dent to carry the canoe to the water, and then carefully take their places—careful not to tip the canoe.

"The price of this canoe is $10,000, and the man who makes these won't sell them to anyone who won't maintain the canoe properly," Dent told the 36 passengers on a recent canoe tour.

Those who take the first trip of the day help Dent to carry the canoe to the water, and then carefully take their places—careful not to tip the canoe.

The passengers pulled at the oars and headed into the backwaters of the Huron River, ringed with cattails and water lilies, and abounding with fish—many of which leaped out of the water as the canoe passed over them. Blue herons flew overhead and Dent pointed out several turtles lounging on logs in the water.

"It's going to be an early fall,

VAN BUREN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Minutes of the Board of Education

SPECIAL MEETING

August 21, 1995

A Special Meeting of the Van Buren Board of Education was held in the Board Room of the Administration Building on Monday, August 21, 1995, at 6:00 p.m.
Members present: Jere Dolph, David Peer, Karl Gorham, Sharry Budd, and Martha Toth. Sherry Frazier arrived at 6:56 p.m. Absent: Susan Ward Callahan. Also present was Superintendent James Richendollar. The meeting was called to order at 6:00 p.m. by President Jere Dolph. The purpose of the meeting was to approve the contract between Larry Tabor and the Van Buren Public Schools for the position of Director of Instruction.

Motion by Martha Toth, supported by Sharry Budd, to approve the contract between Larry Tabor and the Van Buren Public Schools for the position of Director of Instruction amended as follows: Add to #1: "Until July 30, 1996, the Director will be paid pro rata at an annual rate of $80,000." Add: "#5 Duration - This contract shall commence when the candidate is released from his previous position. The original term will run until June 30, 1997. The contract may be extended annually, beginning ninety (90) days prior to June 30, 1996." Roll call vote: Ayes: Peer, Toth, Budd, Frazier, and Dolph. Nays: Gorham. Motion carried.
Motion by Karl Gorham, supported by Sherry Frazier, that the Personnel Committee shall make a recommendation to the board for the position of Manager of Personnel. Motion carried unanimously.
Motion by Martha Toth, supported by Sharry Budd, that the meeting be adjourned. Motion carried unanimously. Special meeting adjourned at 7:25 p.m.

Sharry A. Budd, Secretary

because the birds started to migrate early," Dent said, noting a flock of Canada geese overhead. "Also, some of the trees are already beginning to change color."

Many birds that live and breed in Michigan in the warm summer months have been migrating south for the winter for thousands of years, he said, perhaps prompting the yearly migration of winter vacationers when the Michigan weather turns cold.

Birds migrate to ensure themselves an adequate food supply. For example, hummingbirds are among the first to migrate because there is no nectar available after summer, according to the naturalist.

Most insect-eating birds have a hard time finding food in the early fall because insects are not active in cold weather, and, therefore, they must migrate.

"Birds can choose a route to take in migration depending on weather conditions, prevailing winds and geographic markers such as mountains, stars and the earth's magnetic fields," he said. They navigate using the sun,

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION

MONDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1995

VAN BUREN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

COUNTIES OF WAYNE AND WASHTENAW, MICHIGAN

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE SCHOOL DISTRICT:
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the special election will be held in Van Buren Public Schools, Counties of Wayne and Washtenaw, Michigan, on Monday, October 2, 1995, between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. prevailing Eastern Time.

The following proposals will be submitted to the electors at the election on Monday, October 2, 1995:

BOND PROPOSAL
Shall the Van Buren Public Schools, Counties of Wayne and Washtenaw, Michigan borrow the principal sum of not to exceed Forty-Nine Million Nine Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($49,950,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds for the purposes of defraying the cost of constructing, furnishing and equipping a new elementary school building; constructing, furnishing and equipping an addition or additions to existing School District buildings; partially remodeling, equipping, furnishing, reequipping and refurbishing existing School District buildings; purchasing school buses; acquiring and installing technology in School District buildings and additions; and improving and developing sites in the School District?

SINKING FUND MILLAGE PROPOSAL
Shall the Van Buren Public Schools, Counties of Wayne and Washtenaw, Michigan, levy 1 mill to create a sinking fund for the purpose of the construction or repair of school buildings by increasing the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be imposed on taxable property in the School District for a period of ten (10) years? It is estimated that 1 mill ($1.00 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) would raise approximately $751,000 in the first year that it is levied.

The bonds described above will be paid from ad valorem property taxes which the School District is authorized to levy without limitation as to rate or amount and from money borrowed from the school bond loan fund to the extent available. The bonds will be repaid in annual installments, not exceeding 30 in number, as shall be determined by the Board of Education, and will bear interest on the unpaid balance at a rate or rates determined at the time of sale not exceeding the maximum rate permitted by law. The portion of the bonds to be used to finance buses and technology equipment will be retired in a period of time not in excess of the useful life of those improvements.

THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF SAID GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS SHALL BE PAYABLE FROM THE DEBT RETIREMENT FUND OF THE SCHOOL DISTRICT AND THE SCHOOL DISTRICT IS REQUIRED BY LAW TO LEVY SUFFICIENT AD VALOREM TAXES, IF NECESSARY, FOR THE PAYMENT THEREOF UPON ALL TAXABLE PROPERTY IN THE

SCHOOL DISTRICT TO THE EXTENT NECESSARY, WITHOUT LIMITATION AS TO RATE OR AMOUNT.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the Board of Education of Van Buren Public Schools has estimated the expense of constructing, furnishing and equipping a new elementary school buildings; constructing, furnishing and equipping an addition or additions to existing School District building; partially remodeling, equipping, furnishing, reequipping and refurbishing existing School District buildings; purchasing school buses; acquiring and installing technology in School District buildings and additions; and improving and developing sites in the School District will be in an amount not to exceed Forty-Nine Million Nine Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($49,950,000), together with estimated investment income thereon and that it is necessary to raise such amount by borrowing and issuing bonds of the School District.

New hospital administrator strives for healthier relationship with communities

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

Charming, energetic and daring to go.

That describes the new Annapolis Hospital administrator Denise Fanelli.

Fanelli recently took the helm of Annapolis, and she has many ideas to bring together the surrounding communities and the health industry.

The multi-talented administrator arrives at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne after a very successful stay at Bon Secours in Grosse Pointe where she acted as the vice president of operation.

"I covered approximately half of the internal operations for the hospital," said Fanelli.

Fanelli wasn't always associated with hospitals as a management representative. She first entered the world of health as a nurse in 1973.

"I started as a registered nurse and graduate in 1973, but I actually began my career as an aid in the hospital about 1970," said Fanelli. "From 1973 to 1974 I was in staff nursing in the intensive care unit at Grace Hospital. Then, I went to teaching after that at the Grace Hospital School of nursing."

For approximately six years, Fanelli taught intensive care unit nursing. After that fulfilling experience, she became a supervisor at Grace Hospital in the intensive care unit.

"I held that position for about a year-and-a-half," said Fanelli. "Then I went down to Harper and became the associate director of continuing education. But, that I sort of want to forget about because it only lasted six months."

"Basically, it was a whole new department at the time, and what I discovered is that I really didn't like what I was doing at that time."

Everyone has a pitfall when trying to climb that ladder of success, but for Fanelli, she managed to turn what appeared to be a setback in her career into a positive leap up the ladder of achievement.

In 1982 Fanelli accepted a position as the associate director for nursing at Bon Secours where she remained for three years.

"In 1985 I went to Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills," said Fanelli. "I started out as the associate administrator for nursing, and then I became the assistant administrator. I covered all the nursing areas and the-EKG department."

In 1991 Fanelli returned to Bon Secours as the vice presilooking for a new position at the time this came up," said Fanelli. "I got a call from a re-dent of operations.

Ironically, the health field became interesting to Fanelli not while she was attending school to become a nurse, but as she was getting her appendix out as a junior in high school.

"It was an emergency surgery," said Fanelli. "As I was laying there for the six or seven day stay that you had to do at that time, I looked around and thought to myself that I would be interested in working in a hospital."

"I made up my mind at that time I would go into nursing."

With her vast knowledge of the medical field, why has Fanelli selected Wayne as her new business homefront?

"I really wasn't actively cruiter who was looking for candidates for the Annapolis Hospital position.

"I told the recruiter that I wasn't interested in a lateral move. She said it wasn't a lateral move, it was a position where I would be the administrator running the hospital. I didn't have to think twice. I said 'Oh, I would be interested.'"

The interview process for a new Annapolis administrator in Wayne began in March. By June the career woman was offered the job.

Fanelli arrives in the western Wayne County area with many goals to improve the relationship between the community and local hospital.

"What I really want to start

"I feel we really need to start working with the community more."

- Denise Fanelli

working on is seeing a greater integration of the hospital into the community," said Fanelli. "I feel we really need to start working with the community more. We need to stress wellness and prevention methods more to people."

"Annapolis has already done many good things here in Wayne including the Bids for Kids project and the immunization programs, but I still get this feeling, and some doctors feel this too, that some people don't even know that we are here."

Fanelli said she hopes to improve the quality of care at Annapolis for the public.

"I think there are some perceptions out there that we are mediocre, so we are going to look at that to see how we can change that attitude and improve the overall quality of service to patients of all ages," said Fanelli.

How does the new administrator see the health industry changing in the near future?

"I see some major large systems evolving," said Fanelli. "We're actually seeing that now with the Oakwood, Henry Ford and Beaumont systems. I think in southeastern Michigan we're going to have five or six major players."

"I think we're trying to see how we can become more accessible to the patient population so they can access care more easily."

Fanelli said health officials need to work within the communities more.

"We need to get out from under the hospital walls and get involved more with the communities so we know what their needs are and how we can help them," said Fanelli.

As Fanelli begins her new task as Annapolis administrator, she said what keeps her energy up and creativity flowing to plan new projects for the community is the people she works with and meets every day.

"I love working with people," said Fanelli. "If you were to ask someone who knows me what they consider would be one of my greatest aspects, I think they would say I can interact with just about anyone."

Who's the boss? Belleville, who else!

Gold continues to shine

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Who's the boss?
Ask Plymouth-Salem. Wyandotte. Or Lincoln Park - they will tell you. Belleville is the boss.

And Ian Gold is chairman of the board. The CEO has already scored 10 TDs in three games, and there is at least seven more ball games to go.

In his latest venture, Gold scored four times as Coach Bob LaPointe's Tigers crushed Lincoln Park, 42-7.

Friday night Gold and his teammates figure to continue their winning streak at the expense of Romulus. The two neighboring rivals will meet for the first time in a Mega Conference Red Division football game at 7 p.m. in Romulus.

But LaPointe does not see the Eagles as an easy "W".

"They have some skilled players, including a QB (Rick Evans) who has a lot of poise. He's a take charge kind of player, he can hurt you with the big plays if you're not ready."

Speaking of hurt, Belleville inflicted pain, excruciating pain, on previously unscored upon Lincoln Park.

It took Belleville seven plays and Gold's one-yard plunge in the first quarter to

Romulus awaits Tigers

First-year Romulus coach Mark Woodson and the Eagles will get the feel of how it is to leap from the proverbial football fire into the frying pan.

Shutout 28-0 by title-contender Dearborn Fordson Friday night, Woodson's Eagles host none other than the undefeated and state-ranked Belleville Tigers Friday evening.

"They are tough," said Woodson, commenting on his next opponent's strengths. "They have one of the best running backs (Ian Gold) in the state. They also can use a lot of other weapons to hurt you. And there isn't another high school coach around you least want to see across the sidelines from you than Bob LaPointe. LaPointe is one of the best in the business today."

Woodson said that mistakes, "like those we committed against Fordson will have to be at a minimum. Belleville will blow us out if we make mistakes, you can bet on that."

Four costly Romulus turnovers helped the Eagles self-destruct against the Tractors who rolled from a 7-0 halftime lead to a 28-0 victory. Belleville had an opportunity to tie the game at 7-all late in the second Home-will it be sweet to Wayne?

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

After three frustrating weeks on the road, winless Wayne Memorial will come home Friday night in search of refuge.

And a victory.

Coach Chuck Howton and the Zebras hope that they can snap their three-game losing streak before the home crowd at the expense of Woodhaven, a team that also is looking for its first victory of the 1995 campaign.

"We are not playing well," said Howton, after losing a lopsided 25-6 decision to Monroe at Monroe last week. "These kids are down, and you can see the frustration on their faces. We need a victory badly."

Woodhaven could be just what Wayne needs as a morale-booster. But Howton warns that it will be another tough game.

"Their (Woodhaven) record like ours is very deceiving," Howton stressed. "Woodhaven has a hard-hitting and well-coached team. And they are looking at us the same way we are looking at them."

"This is not going to be an easy game for anyone," Howton said.

Wayne's overworked defense took much of the brunt of the assault from Monroe whose All-State candidate, junior fullback Jovan Johnson, struck with apocalyptic force against the visitors Friday night.

Johnson scored twice against an overworked Wayne defense, whose lineup included many of the players who started on offense.

Johnson's first-strike was a forceful 50-yard up-the-middle TD that stunned the Zebras who never seemed to recover.

Up 21-0 at the half, Monroe never feared retaliation from an atypical Wayne which was mired deep in their own territory most of the encounter because of their own errors.

Before the Zebras tallied in the fourth quarter, Monroe QB Danny Cole put a pair of TDs on the scoreboard on runs of 20 and five-yards. Both of Cole's scores polished off sustained drives.

Johnson, a 6-5, 240-pound junior, finished the evening with 105-yards rushing.

Wayne managed to elude the shutout in the final stanza thanks to a six-yard TD pass from quarterback Lorenzo Guess to Richard Rashad. The TD capped a 70-yard drive that also featured the running of tailback Terrance Hardison.

Four dead-ball fouls crushed Wayne.

"When you make mistakes like that against a team like Monroe, you can bet you're going to pay dearly for them," said Howton.

Is it pay back time coach?
"I hope so. But it isn't going to be easy."

While Plymouth-Salem's Kevin Guse (53) is erased from the play via a block by an unidentified Glenn player, teammate Derek Ellison (59) picks up the pursuit to stop John Glenn tailback Jay Jackson (20) in the photo above. Jackson scored one of the two Rocket TDs and rushed for 71 yards in a 16-0 victory over the visitors Friday night. In the photo at the right, Glenn coach Chuck Gordon and his sophomore quarterback Justin Berent (16) review the field of action before the QB returns and leads the Rockets to their third straight victory. The Rockets will be back in action at 1 p.m. on Saturday when they tackle a highly-touted North Farmington club, while Salem returns to the field at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Farmington. Glenn builds momentum at Salem's expense, 16-0

MCN Staff Writer

It was a game that Westland John Glenn couldn't afford to lose if the Rockets wanted to remain in the race for the Western Lakes Conference title and also stay in the chase for a playoff berth.

And though they sputtered on offense in the second half, Glenn managed to get past arch-rival, Plymouth-Salem, 16-0, Friday night before their Parents' Night crowd.

With their third win in their pocket, and the momentum, Glenn must now turn their sights on North Farmington, a team that has stalled Rocket momentum in the past. The two will meet at 1 p.m. on Saturday at North.

In the meantime, Plymouth-Salem and coach Tom Moshimer will attempt to regroup from their third consecutive setback to prepare for a Friday evening encounter with Farmington.

Moshimer also will be looking at the x's and o's to see what he can do to improve the offense. The Rocks have failed to score now in 12 quarters.

Against Glenn, Salem gave up all 16 points in the first two quarters. But the Rockets led only by a safety after the first quarter when end Terry Ringholz nailed the Rocks' punter in the end zone midway in the period.

Glenn's sophomore quarterback Justin Berent and Jay Jackson teamed up for the Rocket's first TD, a pass that covered 24 yards to Jackson who raced into the end zone unchallenged.

In that series, the Rockets got a big first-down catch from Anthony Greco who caught a 15-yard up-the-middle bullet which preserved the drive.

Steve Paling then booted his first of two point-after to give the hosts a 9-0 lead.

The Rockets collected an insurance touchdown late in the initial half again with Berent going to the air for it. This time the aerial covered 29 yards and Bernie Toby ripped the ball out of the defender's arms in the corner of the end zone.

Berent went to the air 12 times and found receivers six of those times for 89 yards and two TDs. Jackson piled up 71 yards rushing and also had the one TD catch.

The Rockets managed to shut out Salem thanks, in part, to the performances of linebackers Mike Sosnowski and Matt Griglio, who also had an interception. Toby, who doubles as a defensive back, and Jeff Henry, also in the secondary, stood out for the winners.

Robichaud back with vengeance

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

After two humiliating defeats at the hands of non-conference rivals, Robichaud returned to the gridiron Friday afternoon with vengeance in his heart.

The Bulldogs destroyed Ecorse 46-6 for its first win and to begin what may be their final Suburban Athletic Conference campaign.

According to school officials, Robichaud has informed SAC that it plans to compete as an independent in 1996. The Westwood School District also has filed a lawsuit to force the Mega Conference to open its doors to the Dearborn Heights' based school, after that conference refused to admit it three years ago.

Now back to the gridiron.

On the third play from scrimmage, Robichaud quarterback Ray Cook perfectly executed the option and broke loose for a 52-yard touchdown run which set the first plank to the Bulldog's one-sided victory.

After the ensuing kickoff, Robichaud's defense, sparked by linebackers Demetrious Robinson and Prince Selman, pinned the Red Raiders deep in their goal line and an attempt for relief via a punt was blocked with Claude Harrington recovering the ball in the end zone for the TD.

Cook opted to go for the two-point conversion and made it across, turning it into a 14-0 game at the end of the first quarter.

Robichaud erupted for four more TDs in the second quarter and led by as much as 40-0 at the end of the initial half.

Robichaud's Jason Molloy plowed over from the 10-yard line for the third Bulldog TD, and a Cook-to-Adrian Washington pass accounted for the two-point conversion.

In less than two minutes, Robichaud struck again as Ron Thomason's kick landed on the Red Raiders' two-yard line where an alert teammate, Arthur Hudgens, scooped up the ball and ran it into the end zone for the fourth TD.

Rockets are looking for 1st hoops' win

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

"We play hard. But, we have a lot of mental mistakes, which cause a couple of turnovers, letting the other team score. The girls are trying hard which shows that they aren't giving up. They want to improve," Andrew Dennison stated about his team.

The John Glenn Rockets need to come together as a team if they want to achieve their goal of qualifying for the league playoffs.

Dennison's team is off to an 0-4 start, adding the fourth in a Sept. 14 loss against Livonia Franklin.

From the tip-off, to the final buzzer, the game was controlled by the Franklin Patriots.

The first four points were scored by Franklin. Westland didn't register a basket until 4:55 of the first quarter.

Franklin came right back with a two point basket, and then one more on a foul shot.

The Rockets seemed to have difficulties controlling the ball, although, at the end of the first quarter they were only down 18-11.

The second quarter was cluttered with foul shots. In all, 22 points were scored in the second, and only nine of the points was scored during normal play.

At half-time, the Rockets

Vikings have tough Homecoming assignment

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

First-year Inkster High football coach Glenn Free knew that the 1995 season was going to be a challenge. He just didn't know how big of a challenge it would be. Suiing up only 14 players, the Viking coach says "that what this team lacks in numbers it has in courage and spirit." But that hasn't helped him get his first win as head coach. On Friday, Inkster will need both - courage and spirit - when Highland Park invades the Vikings' Stadium. On the plus side, there should be a lot of spirit generated because it's the Vikings' Homecoming Game. But the Polar Bears are 2-1 on the year, while Inkster, after forfeiting to Saginaw Buena Vista in its opener because of a lack of eligible players, have dropped two straight, its latest a 24-0 shutout to Willow Run. And the odds makers are saying that the Vikings will be looking at an 0-4 record this weekend. "We don't know much about Highland Park," Free admits.

"But they are a big Class A school, so they will be able to put numbers on the field that could wear us down. If we are not to be blown out, we must play a flawless game."

Inkster's defense, led by tackles Matt Butler and Robin Dunlap, managed to hold Willow Run scoreless in the first quarter, but the Flyers came back and scored twice in the second frame thanks to runs by Damon Stafford and Jerry Pryor, who finished with two TDs apiece for the evening.

The Vikings managed to threatened first, early in the first quarter when quarterback Vince Lee engineered a midfield drive that carried Inkster to the WR 10-yard line where penalties dissipated the drive.

Inkster tailback Dante Williams stood out in that drive, and Lee finished with six of 15 pass completions for a total of 140 yards. The Vikings did receive some good news this week. They expect injured Dorian Richardson back in uniform; He is recovering from a back injury and doctors say that sturdy lineman may be ready to go on Friday.

Rockets waste Wojtowicz's 1st-place against Northville

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Westland John Glenn wasted a first-place performance by its super junior Joe Wojtowicz and dropped its Western Lakes divisional cross country opener to Northville, 22-39. Wojtowicz remained undefeated on the season as he led the pack to and across the finish line. The 16-year-old junior toured the 5,000-meter course at Cass Benton Park in 17:28 under perfect weather conditions. "We just don't have the depth and the experience to go along with Joe's efforts," said Glenn coach Jess Shough. "Northville has a solid team, much improved over a year ago." The Rockets' next runner to finish was Chris Gillen, who finished fifth in 18:39. Glenn also counted the scores of Justin Keyes, Tim Moore and Mark Lovett, who nailed down the 10th, 11th and 12th places, respectively. The Westlanders also visited Holly on Saturday to compete in that city's annual invitational. Pitted in the "AA" Division, the Rockets wound up 19th in a field of 27 area teams. Brighton won the "AA" with a team total of 78, while Troy Athens was runner-up with 118 and Ann Arbor Pioneer was third (126).

Glenn compiled 553 points in finishing 19th. Redford Catholic Central's Joe Leo won individual honors with a sub-16 minute run. Glenn's best was Wojtowicz, who crossed the finish line 67th. Wojtowicz got "boxed-in" in the pack and couldn't maneuver into position to break loose, according to Shough. The Rockets will compete on Saturday in the "Shamrock" Invitational hosted by Catholic Central. On Thursday, Glenn is scheduled to return to the Lakes Division and run Livonia Stevenson. Belleville spoiled Wayne Memorial's return to cross country competition last week as Coach George Devore and the Tigers turned back their Mega Conference Red Division opponents in a double dual. But Belleville didn't possess enough depth to stop Taylor Center, which claimed a convincing 18-38 victory over the Tigers. Wayne returned to the cross country circuit after a four-year hiatus. The financially-strapped Wayne-Westland School District initiated a pay-to-participate program during the past four years, but coaches had difficulty raising money for CC, therefore, cancelled the program.

get the Tigers' on the scoreboard. Although LP challenged, the Railsplitters never got close after trailing 14-7 at the close of the first half. Gold scored four TDs for the evening, bringing the 6-2, 205-pound fullback's season's total to 10. "It has to be a record," said LaPointe. "But I don't know who is keeping the record book these days." Gold's initial TD was set up by a spectacular 63-yard off tackle slant by Mike Williams.

After an exchange of punts, Gold came back with his second touchdown of the game, a dazzling 48-yard sprint pulled off with an up-the-middle dash. The Railsplitters dazed Belleville with a 79-yard drive that halfback Harold Lambert and receiver Brian Sadler capped with a TD toss with less than four minutes left in the half. But Belleville recovered before the intermission with Joe Manuel's 52-yard touchdown run, then split the Railsplitters' backs with Gold's five-yard TD run with less than 1 1/2 minutes left in the half.

Belleville also got a 11-yard end around TD run from running back Willie Patton. Eric Harrison successfully converted all six Belleville point-afters. After the late second-quarter letdown when they buckled and allowed LP lone score, Belleville's defense, spearheaded by end Derrick Agurs, Eric Summers and cornerback Sam Reid tightened the screws and contained the Railsplitters the rest of the way. "We got an extremely fine effort from our defense," said LaPointe. "Lincoln Park had not been scored upon coming into our game."

quarter when quarterback Rick Evans moved the Eagles inside the Fordson 10 only to lose the ball on downs. Evans however didn't have the services of one of his running backs, Nick McKinnie, who was sidelined early in the game with an ankle injury. McKinnie was replaced by freshman Fred Russell, who did a commendable job, according to Woodson.

We had a decent crowd at this game. Some of the fans however thought the game was at 7:30 p.m. and missed the first quarter. Please inform them that our home games are at 7 p.m.
- coach Woodson

Also, it was Romulus' first home game and the crowds showed up in flocks. "We had a decent crowd at this game," said Woodson. "Some of the fans however thought the game was at 7:30 p.m. and missed the first quarter. Please inform them that our home games are at 7 p.m."

Champs card No. 4 victory

Plymouth-Salem, the defending Western Lakes Conference golf champs, continues to look impressive on the golf course. Coach Rick Wilson's linksmen disposed of two conference opponents last week, turning back Westland John Glenn, 206-231, while winning a 14-stroke (192-206) victory over a highly-touted Farmington team. Wilson, who is in his 13th year as the Rocks' head coach, said that the 1995 Salem lineup has a good blend of experience and enthusiasm. Against Glenn, Salem's Mike Hjelmsted shot a 37 for 9-holes to wind up with medalist honors at Hilltop Golf Course. Teammate Brian Fox turned in a 40 while Ryan Andrezejewski finished with 43. Adam Wilson, the coach's son, chipped in with a 44. Glenn got a pair of 42s from Tompkins and Gierdo, while Lilienthal shot a 46. Against Farmington, Salem's Hjelmsted and Aaron Pawlowski each scored 37s in leading their team to the victory. Jeff Lear and Andrezejewski were two strokes back while Fox, playing his best round of the year, carded a 40.

Woodson said the defense held in the first half, but caved in the final two quarters because "many of our kids have to go both ways and they tired." Middle linebackers Keith Miller, who shared responsibilities with Cam Watson, distinguished themselves.

Cook scored the next TD on a quarterback sneak that capped a midfield drive and his pass to Washington, which covered 16-yards accounted for the final Robichaud score.

Ecorse got on the scoreboard thanks to a 70-yard pass-run play that highlighted QB Shannon Ghoston's direct hit to wide receiver Bruce Toney. Cook had an excellent afternoon as he scored two TDs, rushed for 91 yards in seven attempts. Speight chipped in with 56 yards on five carries.

Belleville girls cross country starts season off with a bang

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

"We have the makings of a solid team," coach Sam Vicchy said of his Tiger runners. "We have 10 girls on the team, with no seniors."

At the Sept. 9 meet at Schoolcraft College, Belleville placed fifth out of 14 teams. And on Sept. 12 at Ypsilanti, scoring was done on an individual basis. There were 25 girls who participated in this event, and Belleville took home eight medals, one for each of the Tigers who ran in the event.

"We have a young team right now, if we can get the fourth and fifth runners to pick it up a little, we can be good at the end of the season. We're okay now, but we could be better. I have confidence in the team," Vicchy said.

team is in the Mega Red Division, which is very tough according to Vicchy. Last year, the team was tied for second in this division.

"Our goals this year are to, number one, qualify to go to the state meet. That is my goal and the team's goal. To qualify, we must do well in the regionals. They only take the top three teams to the state meet. I know the kids will be there when the going gets tough."

Vicchy said he thinks his team can achieve their goals. "We have a hard working team, with a lot of comradarie. We try to improve each week and remain injury free. This is a very competitive team, in that they try to bump off each other. Girls are very difficult to coach because they either peak too soon or too late. They either run their fastest before or after the regionals take place. I think the girls are primed and ready to go."

Tammy Pietrowski, a junior, is the captain and team leader. "Our top three runners are Tammy, Beth Hiser, who is a freshman, and sophomore Katie Ackron. The three of them are running where we want them to. They should be able to get the train running."

Punt, pass, kick your way to the Silverdome

By KIMBERLY WOLOSKE
MCN Staff Writer

If you're age 8 to 15 and you think you can punt, pass and kick like a pro, Gatorade and the Detroit Lions are giving you a chance to prove it.

Produced by National Football League Properties, Inc., and sponsored by Gatorade in cooperation with Pro Player and the Michigan Recreation and Park Association, the NFL Gatorade Punt, Pass & Kick program is a chance for area children to enjoy the sport of football and possibly earn their way to a Lion's game.

The event, open to girls and boys, is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Sept. 23 at the Central City Park Soccer Field, located behind the Melvin G. Bailey

Local competitions are conducted with the top finisher in each of the eight age groups advancing to a sectional competition.

Recreation Center at 36651 Ford Road, between Wayne and Newburgh roads. Local competitions are conducted with the top finished in each of the eight age groups advancing to a sectional competition.

The top five finishers in each age group from the section pool of champions will advance to the Team Championship event staged at halftime of a Detroit Lions Game.

The top punters, passers and kickers will then move on to the pool of Team Champions to compete at the National Finals, conducted at a post-season NFL game on NBC.

Gatorade participants can compete free of charge on Sept. 23 with a valid copy of their birth/baptism certificate with proof of age. For more information call (810) 524-3484.

Rockets

were on the losing end of a 31-20 score.

Things picked up in the third quarter. Unfortunately, they didn't pick up for Westland, who only scored five points in the quarter. Senior Rochelle Harris came through with four points for the Rockets. On one basket, Harris appeared to glide through a crowd of players, untouched, to send the ball through the hoop.

The third quarter was very physical. Gravity appeared to be a problem, as several girls on each team fell. On a few occasions, a Rocket was seen diving into the crowd on the sidelines to retrieve the ball. The score leading into the fourth quarter was 43-25.

The Rockets seemed to be revived at the beginning of the fourth quarter, scoring the first 11 points. Harris scored one point on a technical foul.

At 4:03, Franklin realized

I try to keep a positive attitude. I tell them to just have fun. It's okay to make a mistake, just try not to let it happen again.
- coach Andrew Dennison that their lead was dwindling, and they took control of the game once again.

John Glenn's Rosie Schwartz scored a three point basket with :43 seconds to go in the game, but Franklin had the game in hand. The final score of the game was 57-44.

After the game, a dejected coach Dennison said he tries to keep the girls motivated by telling them to keep playing hard.

"I don't know what to tell them anymore. They have enough worries without me being on their backs. I try to keep a positive attitude. I tell them to just have fun. It's okay to make a mistake, just try not to let it happen again."

Dennison said the girls need to work on shooting if they want to improve their game.

"We only shot 14 percent from the floor during the last game. They also need to apply more pressure on the defense, and concentrate more on the team goals rather than individual goals."

According to the coach, "The top players on the team are, Nikyia Lee, she's a good leader. Rochelle Harris is a great outside threat. She leads by example. Jamie Grigal is another one-if she's on the floor all night, she's the hussle all the time."

The co-captains of the team are Lee and Katy Duncan, both seniors.

Wayne Memorial swimmers performing well this season

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

At the Mega Relay, the Wayne Memorial Zebras placed fourth out of 16 teams. "I am very pleased," Zebra coach Mike Grueber stated. "There was some good competition at the relay and the girls performed very well."

From there, Wayne went on to beat their chief rivals, the Westland John Glenn Rockets. The final score of this meet was 98-88.

Wayne seemed to lose that winning touch in the meet against Wyandotte on Sept. 14.

"I was pleased for the most part with how the girls swam against the competition. It was a learning experience. We lost the meet 117-68. It was our first time swimming against kids of that caliber. It's something we are going to grow on down the road," Grueber said.

The only Wayne diver to win in the Wyandotte meet was junior, Kasey Holt. Freshman Sarah Lively also had a good meet against Wyandotte, according to Grueber. "Sarah's was the best performance we had at the meet."

Juniors Kristi Brumlow and Sybil Henderson swam well in the meet. And, sophomore Teresa Yorke did well in the 500 free style.

According to Grueber, "Our main goal, overall, is team improvement and hopefully qualify kids for the state meet."

This is Grueber's first year as head coach. He has been the assistant head coach since 1991. "I try to motivate them by teaching them that no one person makes a team. It's 30 girls that make us successful, not just one person. I also use examples from the past. And, when I'm talking to them, I try to exert a positive attitude to them that they can succeed."

The Zebra's record last year was 17-1, and they have only lost one dual meet in two years. But, according to Grueber, "the competition wasn't as strong as it is now."

Walk for justice Project Hope makes strides for peace and harmony

When the Focus Hope Walk for Justice begins at 1 p.m. Oct. 8, an employee of Michigan Community Newspapers will be one of the thousands of participants, and her co-workers will be among the many sponsors.

Participating in the eight-mile walk, which is patterned after the nonviolent demonstrations of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who inspired this year's theme will be special writer Rachael Lewis.

Every year for more than 20 years, thousands of people from diverse ethnic, religious, economic and political backgrounds have come together for the annual walk.

The group encourages organizations from different areas to walk together to foster new friendships among diverse ethnic and cultural groups.

Proceeds from the walk — sponsors' contributions — will be used to support Focus:

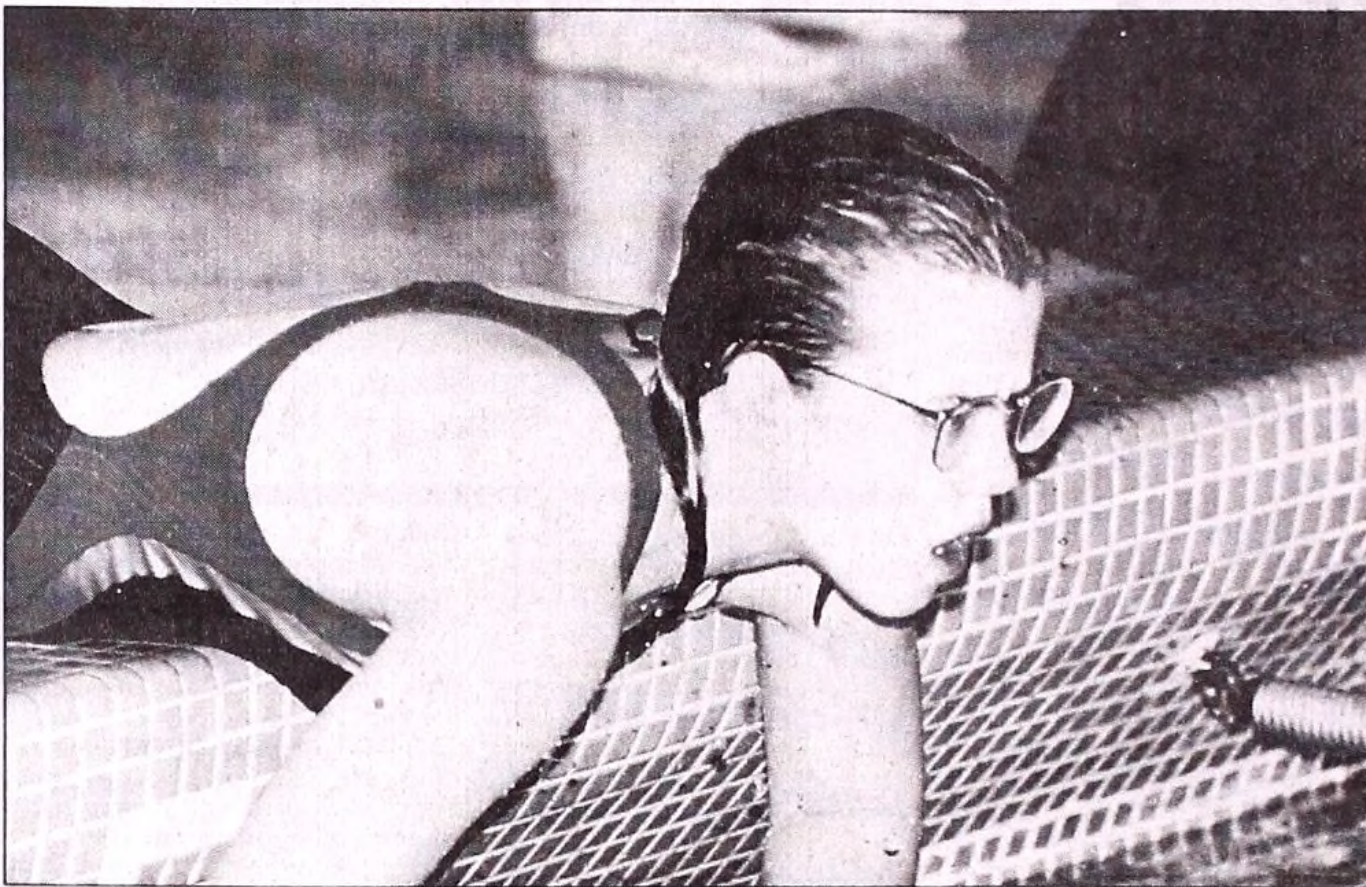

Every year for more than 20 years, thousands of people from diverse ethnic, religious, economic and political backgrounds have come together for the annual walk.

Hope's childhood education, technical training and food programs. Its programs include a series of technical education and training courses, Fast Track to improve job readiness for high school graduates, the Machinist Training Institute, the Center for Advanced Technologies and the Center for Children, a preschool and day care center. Focus Hope also sponsors the Glazer Elementary School/Focus: Hope Partnership 12-month curriculum and before/after school program, the Food Prescription Program and Food for Seniors, feeding 60,000 people monthly.

Registration begins at noon Oct. 8 at 1400 Oakman Boulevard at the Focus: Hope complex. The 12-kilometer (eight mile) walk begins on Oakman Boulevard, proceeds to Woodward, south to West Grand Boulevard, across to Rosa Parks Boulevard, returning to Focus: Hope.

Individuals who wish to make contributions may either sponsor a walker or spend their donation to Focus: Hope, 1355 Oakman Boulevard, Detroit, Mich. 48238.

He's back.

The multi-talented Johnnie Walker is returning to Stage IV of the State Wayne Theatre for a limited engagement performance.

"A Very Special Evening" with Lena May Walker and Johnnie Walker's "MMMM" with L.A. on guitar is slated for 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Sept. 24.

"We have a lot of talent that will be on stage for this event," said Walker. "My new name is now 'MMMM'. I will be featuring Brenda Smiley (Precious), Cheyante Motley and Elizabeth Morse."

The Motown sound will be featured during this evening as well as original songs from the Wayne resident.

The two-hour show will have the audience singing along with each piece, according to Walker.

We have a lot of talent that will be on stage for this event. My new name is now 'MMMM'.

- Lena May Walker

"I just want everyone to have a good time," said Walker. "We will be performing many popular songs including I'm Yours and Hero."

Tickets for the musical event are $10 in advance or $12 at the door. Cost for seniors and students is $8 in advance or $10 at the door.

The State Wayne Theatre is located at 35310 Michigan Ave. in downtown Wayne.

For more information on the event contact Walker at 326-9140.

Railroad conductor doubles as storyteller at Greenfield Village

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

During Mary Harkless' childhood, she heard stories about railroading from her father and other family members.

The tales intrigued her so much that she developed a life-long interest in railroads that inspired her to write children's stories about them.

Not only is she a writer and teller of railroad stories, Harkless is a conductor on the two steam-propelled trains that travel around Greenfield Village.

"I've been a conductor for five years," Harkless said. "I was a school teacher and a volunteer at Greenfield Village. When I asked about jobs available, they read a list and one of the jobs was railroad conductor. They didn't have to go down the list any further. I knew that was the job for me."

Harkless' father worked on the railroad, and often he would call home and invite the family to meet him at the station to go out to dinner.

"We would go to Toledo or Fort Wayne for dinner, and then come back home," Harkless said. "I was very fortunate as a kid that I got to travel a lot."

There are two steam engines at Greenfield Village - the Torch Lake from 1873, which was used to haul copper from the mines, and the Edison from the late 1860s, which was Henry Ford's favorite, Harkless said.

"Once the train starts, the engineer is the boss, but the conductor is in charge until the train is in motion," Harkless said. "I make sure all of the passengers are on the train and seated before I give the engineer the signal to go. Up until that time, I'm the boss, but after that it's the engineer and fireman who are the bosses."

Harkless said engineers were called "hoggers" in the old days and firemen were referred to as "tallow pots."

"We've added a third stop to our route in anticipation of the Amtrack entrance which is scheduled to open next spring," she said. "When the Amtrack train enters the Village, it will provide a real contrast between the old and the new in railroading for young people."

Among her special passengers during the past years were civil rights activist Rosa Parks and a man who celebrated his 100th birthday with a train ride.

"Recently, we had a car full of Russian automotive engineers, none of whom could speak English. Their interpreter stood by me and repeated everything that I said for them," Harkless said. "We had a big delegation from England and Germany who arrived on the same day a short while ago."

During Railroad Days at the Village, slated on Sept. 23 and 24, Harkless will tell railroad stories - some of which are her own tales.

"I'm really a lucky woman," the Romulus resident said. "I've had two jobs that I love - first teaching for 22 years and now being a railroad conductor."

Communication skills

Book author tells how to 'Hit the Ground Running'

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

"Good communications can get you off to a good start. Present a positive image and convey the message you intend," is the advice of Cynthia Kreuger, author of Hit the Ground Running.

People beginning a career have acquired the technical skills necessary to get started, but many do not have the know-how to communicate what they know, interact with a variety of people and present themselves in the most favorable light.

In her book Kreuger hopes to give employees some strategies to "jump start" their careers.

She suggests that you start by thinking your way to success -- having positive thoughts, believing in yourself and celebrating your achievements.

It is important to be assertive, the author says. The key point to assertiveness is respecting the rights of others without denying your own.

"People who are not assertive try to be everything to everyone and find they have little left for themselves," Kreuger says in her chapter on assertiveness. "They're like chameleons, constantly changing to temporarily fit their present environment, never really analyzing or knowing their true natures."

She advises people to decide that they want and to go after it -- with a passion. Also, train yourself to say "no" when you mean no. Use responses, such as "No, that would be inconvenient," "No, I'm too busy" or "No, the timing is bad," all of which need no further explanations.

Of course, if the one asking for your time is your supervisor, the refusal should be accompanied by an alternate plan, such as, "No, I can't work late tonight, but I can come in earlier in the morning."

Use re
Successful people value their time and use it wisely.

"You'll achieve success only if you can complete your assignments and reach your goals. Your boss isn't going to be pleased with 100s of partially finished projects, no matter how superior your start," said the author.

She suggests that tasks should be written on a calendar or planner, and that individuals develop some techniques to deal with people who waste their time.

"Never invite them into your office, or worse, to have a seat," Kreuger said. "If they stay beyond a few minutes, say 'Excuse me, but I have to make a call now,' or say that you have to leave to deliver a message to another office."

Another technique is to guide them out of your office on the pretense that you want to show them something, she said.

While Kreuger does not come up with any earth-shattering, new ideas, she does take a common sense approach to business success and presents strategies to help one achieve success.

Hit the Ground Running is published in paperback by Brighton Publications.

Army post organizes ministry

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A new Korean-style ministry has been organized in Southeastern Michigan by the Salvation Army.

Majors Paul and Anna Kim have been assigned to the area by Divisional Commander Lt. Colonel William J. Speck in Southfield.

Kim, a native of Korea, has previously worked in Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Dallas, New York City and Washington, D.C. in the United States and Vancouver and Toronto in Canada.

As director and associate director, the Kims have been appointed to spread the Salvation Army's Christian message through a ministry based in the Army's Kresge Service Center in Southfield.

The Salvation Army has always played a role in the lives of Paul and Anna Kim, Speck said.

"The Salvation Army has been in my family for three generations," Kim said, "as my grandfather was a corps officer."

Earlier in his career, Kim worked with a Army medical doctor in Korea.

He met his wife when he was only 16 and today they have three adult children, Peter, John and Mary.

They moved to the U.S. 15 years ago and formed a Korean ministry in Los Angeles.

Greenfield Village celebrates season of plenty during Harvest

Autumn in the air means the season of plenty has arrived bringing bushels of fun for the entire family during Greenfield Village's annual Fall Harvest Days Sept. 29-Oct. 1.
Visitors can pitch in to help as costumed presenters celebrate the season and bring in the crops, re-creating farm life in rural America during the 18th, 19th and early 20th centuries.
"In addition to presenting a realistic picture of rural life, this program gives visitors a real feel for a variety of chores and activities," said program coordinator Jim Johnson. "They can share in the celebration, as well as discover the difficulties and challenges of harvest time."
At the 1880s Firestone Farm, workers will be threshing wheat, planting winter crops and putting up food for the cold days ahead.
Hands, horses and steam will power the plows and threshers used to harvest the crops and prepare the fields for future planting.

hands by clearing the fields of rocks to prepare for the plow, and trying their hands at working the soil with a reproduction "grub hoe".
Kids can get a feel for fall by making wheat ornaments on Friday, and corn husk dolls on Saturday and Sunday.

This year's event also offers a special look at how America's agricultural history remains relevant with a special demonstration of ox power by Tillers International.

Other harvest activities include hands-on rope making plus demonstrations of steam powered threshing and straw bailing.

When we say we screen our doctors, it's not a slogan and it's not just some routine examination, either. This is a procedure we take very seriously. After all, your health is at stake here. So, before any doctors become Blue Care Network doctors, before they ever examine one single patient, they must first survive a very detailed examination themselves.

Here's what it takes. First, all doctors (personal care physicians and specialists) are reviewed against very specific written criteria. (Quality of care is what we're measuring here.) In addition, an on-site inspection is conducted by specially trained staff and results are reviewed by Blue Care Network doctors in the area.

Patient satisfaction surveys are conducted by a professional, independent research company. Here, we ask patients to evaluate their doctor's technical skills as well as the basic level of service and care.

And, Blue Care Network works with its personal care physicians to ensure that quality standards are met.

Finally, Blue Care Network itself is reviewed for quality by a national industry watchdog association.

Oh, and after all these standards have been met, the doctors selected have the pleasure of going through this process all over again every two years for as long as they're with us.

Now, that is a tall order to fill. But if we're going to take the guesswork out of selecting a doctor, we should try our hardest to provide you with a sizable list of quality personal care physicians and specialists. It's as simple as that.

Style, luxury featured in Cadillac Deville

By JUSTIN WILCOX
MCN Automotive Writer

What is big as a boat but does not float in water? The 1995 Cadillac Sedan DeVille. The popular term "boat" is a phrase used by my generation to describe large cars that are primarily luxury based rather than sports based.

I have to admit that this was my first impression when I climbed aboard the Sedan DeVille. I blew the horn to assure myself that this was indeed an automobile.

Once inside I was greeted with leather interior and all of the amenities that anyone could ask for.

Although the car was plush it seemed to lack the graceful muscle shared by its brothers the Eldorado and Seville.

Since its introduction in 1956, Sedan DeVille has been among Cadillac's highest volume models. In 1985, a year after the transition to front-wheel-drive, DeVille became the best selling six passenger sedan in the domestic luxury market. It continues to be Cadillac's most popular model, meeting the needs of Cadillac buyers in the traditional large car market.

The DeVille power plant is the exclusive 4.9-liter V-8 engine. It generates 200 horsepower at 4100 rpm and 275 ft-lbs of torque at 3000 rpm providing generous power and performance for smooth city and highway driving.

Although the Northstar power plant hauled this monster to 60 mph in a respectable time, I felt nothing. Let me clarify. The power steering was so over-boosted that the least little movement had you traveling out of your lane. This made highway cruising a bit frustrating for me due to the fact that I am used to having a great deal of feedback through the wheel. Again if I can draw a comparison to Cadillac's own vehicles, the Seville and Eldorado handled beautifully on the highway with the right amount of feedback for the driver without making the task tiresome.

The DeVille is Cadillac's most spacious model. At over 117.5 cubic feet of passenger compartment interior room, plus 20 cubic feet of trunk storage, the DeVille provides ample space and functional cabin layout.

At $37,812, the DeVille is a heavyweight in the price category as well. For the price you get all of the usual amenities that one would expect from a Cadillac -- leather seats, AM/FM stereo cassette with CD player, air conditioning, power seats, mirrors and a host of other amenities.

For the price I would pay the extra six grand and get the Eldorado Touring Coupe. But I am a sports car nut by heart, four doors are just not my style. For those of you looking for a big car with lots of amenities, don't dismiss this car without a test drive....

Weekender rumors Calvert to replace J.P. McCarthy?

By Bob Harris and Benny Spears

Hi, its Bob Harris and Benny from Benny & the Jets Band. The guys are getting ready to promote their 3rd LP. The guys who are on that late night TV commercial with Wally Jackson from Reisers Keyboard Lounge and the guys who still have lots to say.

Last months Bob Harris Honey Radio Country Oldies Festival was great. Liberty Park in Romulus was hard to find, but the park was great. Treed seating area great! Bands including Gunslinger, Jim Kelly, Elvis - Sherman Arnold, the Over Easy Band (Great Reives closed the show).

Slick Willy and Lemond James, Washbord Lewis, Wally Jackson & Benny and the Jets all were great. Rick Allens Music Store (soon to be moving to Wayne Rd.) and the Jackson Sound Co. were great.

Deano Day, Rob Bennett and Mark Stevens from Honey Radio were great. I found myself starting to listen to Honey again - AM-560 and the station's really good. Deano in the morning, Mark Stevens evenings, that British guys Rock-a-billy show and the new Beatle's Show on Saturdays from 8 to 9 p.m. called yesterday with Deano Vallie and Scott Allen.

P.S. If you call Honey at 298-7560 and tell 'em you want to hear something off the new Benny & The Jets LP they have an advance copy and they'll play it for you!

- Rumor is Mr. Mikes on Ford Rd. is closed, to be torn down to make room for a Fantastic Sams.

- Rumor is Jamie Coes new bar on Farmington Rd. north of Plymouth Rd. is open and packed. Jamie is singing full time with the band.

- Rumor is Dennis Charlies formerly of the Flashback Band is back in town and singing with Jeff and the Atlantics at Mr. Z's on 5 Mile & Inkster.

- Rumor is Ken Calvert from WRIF will replace the late JP McCarthy on WJR.

- Rumor is Sportscaster Ron Cameron (Honey Radio 9 a.m. Saturdays) will return to Detroit full-time to do radio and buy a 24 hour non-smoking sports restaurant.

-Rumor is Benny & The Jets are returning to the Fire & Ice Lounge formerly (Bodines Slammers & Jimmys Showtime) on Thurs., Fri. & Sat. still at the Office Bar in Redford on Sundays and Riesers in Westland on Tuesdays. For more formation call Benny at (313) 730-1627.

Customers nurse their beers and socialize at Buck's Place.

Bucks

Over Easy's show is when singer Tina sings belt's out an awesome version of "Power of Love" over the band's driving riffs while the players and dissolve into colored smoke rising from the bandstand.

"Tina may be tiny and kinda fragile looking, but she sure has a good set of pipes," a fan told me.

The performance contains all the elements that keeps bringing crowds back to Buck's to dance, listen, or drink to the bands dramatic arrangements of mainstream tunes and to hear Tina's powerful renditions of oldies, newies, top 40 hits, and danceable country music from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., Wednesday through Saturday nights.

Owned by a profession jock - former NASCAR race driver James Buck - the Buck's is also a sports bar. Naturally, the 110-seat, 3,400- square-foot bar's televisions are often turned to races, but you couldn't find a more congenial place to watch professional or college football or basketball games this winter.

Especially if you're a beer drinker. This is because Buck's sells beer by the bucket - six beers for $8.00.

If beer isn't strong or exotic enough, on weekends there are $1 shot specials served in test-tube-shaped "shooters." Specials include Jell-O shots, Maui-style tropical drinks, and other potent mixes.

You'll also like Buck's if you're a burger eater. For a half-pounder with all the trimmings, Buck's only charges $1.75. Cheaper than fast food but made with fresh ground round and cooked to order.

The kitchen turns out other goodies, like a 12-inch cheese pizza with cheese and pepperoni for $5.50. Poppers, which are deep-fried jalapeno peppers stuffed with cream cheese. And a favorite with guys - Buck's super ham on rye.

Families tend to come for the bargain meals. On Thursday, $2.75 buys you all the spaghetti you can eat. At the Friday fish fry, $4.75 buys you all the beer-batter-fried fish you can eat.

There are also lunch specials. I wolfed down a $3 plate of Swedish meatballs on mashed potatoes and brown gravy served with a side of green peas. The chewy meatballs were extra flavorful because they had been soaked in gravy for three days.

There's plenty to do at Buck's - even when the band's not playing.

For music, there's a corner jukebox with oldies, Motown, country, and pop hits.

There's a pool table that hosts a Monday night league. Otherwise, anybody can play. On Sundays, pool is free.

There are also steel and plastic dart boards, with a Tuesday-night dart league.

And there is a midweek lady's night, which offers ladies beer and wine at half price.

Besides attracting a diverse adult crowd, Buck's friendly atmosphere is perfect for celebrations. Successful birthday parties are common.

15-year-old charged as adult in Canton murder

By KIMBERLY WOLOSKIE
MCN Staff Writer

Fifteen year-old Roger Dunn was bound over on first degree murder charges for the shooting death of Dale Farr of Canton on Aug. 25.

Farr's 19-year-old brother testified in 22nd District Court in Inkster on Sept. 13 before Judge Sylvia James on the circumstances surrounding his brother's death.

Dunn was charged as an adult and remanded to the Wayne County Jail following his preliminary exam. The Inkster youth will stand trial on first degree murder charges, attempted murder and felony firearms. Dunn sat mute as the victim's brother described the minutes leading up to the shooting.

According to testimony Farr and his brother had just left his mother's home in Inkster and were stopped on the corner of Glenwood and Middlebelt roads waiting for a car in front of Farr's 1994 Cavalier to move out of the intersection.

Farr said three individuals jogged up to their car before they were able to turn the corner. Two of the youths approached the driver's door, while one, carrying a stick, walked up to the passenger door where James Farr sat.

The man told the court the three youths, which included Dunn, were saying something to he and his brother he could not understand. "I just told my brother to go," said James. "I was scared and I wanted to leave."

After turning the corner the individual carrying the stick struck the rear of the car with the object. Dale allegedly pulled his vehicle into the Kentucky Fried Chicken parking lot, located on Middlebelt Road, where both men exited the vehicle as the three youths jogged toward the car.

Farr said he removed The Club, an anti-theft device that locks onto the steering wheel of a car, and separated the metal pole into two, two foot long pieces, handing one to his brother and keeping the other.

"They started running toward us throwing rocks from the parking lot and yelling fighting words," said James. "We returned words."

The victim's brother said a chase ensued from the parking lot to the side of the Fairway Foods Party Store building. "When we ran around the corner their were seven or eight individuals standing there," said James. "We began to back off because there was only two of us."

Farr testified the original three youth advanced on them, Dunn stepping out ahead of his two friends. James said Dunn swung a tree limb at him the size of a four foot broom handle and he returned a swing with the metal pole. Farr then said Dunn pulled a gun out of his left pocket where upon he heard several shots fired before he could stand up after he tripped and fell to the ground.

"When I got up he pointed the gun toward my head and fired but he missed," said James. "He fired to more time but the gun didn't fire, he'd emptied the revolver."

Following the shooting, Farr said the youths took off running toward a gray Cougar. "They jumped in and I ran up and smashed the front windshield," said James.

After the young men left the scene, James said he returned to the 1994 Cavalier but noticed his brother, Dale, wasn't inside. "I came around the corner of the building and saw him lying on the ground," said James. "He was shot in the rear shoulder."

Wayne County Chief Forensic Pathologist, Bader Cassin, M.D. concluded in his autopsy of the 23-year-old victim, Farr was shot once in the upper right portion of his back. The bullet pierced his lung and heart before lodging itself on the left side of his body.

Dale Farr's family and fiancée attended the preliminary exam and tearfully listened to the testimony. According to Farr's aunt, Sandy Pomerico, the family is pleased to see the suspect was apprehended, but is struggling with loss of a son, brother, future husband and nephew.

Dunn's defense attorney, Denise McNulty, requested the first degree murder charges be reduced to second degree because she questioned the premeditation behind the shooting. Although Judge James allowed McNulty an opportunity to question the charges she said their was sufficient facts to indicate Dunn had several seconds to reflect, including the two times the gun did not fire when he was attempting to fire the gun again.

Dunn's arraignment in Detroit Recorder's Court on the three felony counts was scheduled for Sept. 27 at the Frank Murphy Hall of Justice in Detroit.

More bones found by river

By KIMBERLY WOLOSKIE
MCN Staff Writer

Since the discovery, Sept. 9, of a human skull and leg bones, Wayne County Forensic technicians have uncovered additional vertebrae and bones of what they believe is an adult male in his mid-30s.

According to Nancy Mouradian, chief of staff for the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, an anthropological pathologist has been assigned to study the discoveries embedded along the bank of the Rouge River in Westland.

Two young boys were playing along the shore of the river when they discovered the skull. The boy's father confirmed their discovery and alerted the Westland Police and Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

"We believe the skull to have two hairline fractures along each side of the head," said Mouradian. "However, at this time we cannot confirm if the fracture occurred pre- or post-mortum."

No tissue was recovered from the bone remnants. Mouradian said a body can become skeletal in a short period of time as a result of water exposure and the strong currents from the river.

The sheriff's department have contact area police departments, issuing an all-points-bulletin for missing persons matching the brief description.

Further information is said to be issued following the forensic examination by the pathologist assigned to the case.

Special Olympics thanks supporters

The Wayne-Westland Special Olympics program is thankful for many things, including the continued support they receive from local business owners and operators.

"Special Olympics receives no state or federal funding. Our entire financial resources depend on the generosity of the community," said Ron Kulas, program coordinator.

Providing emotional and educational support for the areas athletes is a full-time task. The year-round athletic program encompasses 12 different sports for athletes of all ages. Physically fit, Special Olympic athletes participate in individual and team sports including: softball, soccer, figure skating, Nordic and Alpine skiing, poly hockey, bowling, basketball, walking, weight lifting, swimming, track and field.

Other fund raising projects from the summer involved a lock-up benefit at the Westland Summer Festival and the collaborative sale of taco's.

Instructions

Associated Newspapers invite you to have fun meeting these singles who are also looking for that "Perfect Match". It's as simple as this:

1. To respond to an ad

By Phone: Call to meet them now. First, find one or more singles on these pages that you'd like to have fun meeting. Call 1-900-884-4777 ($1.99 per minute). By using our unique "QuickConnect" system, our operators can call up whomever you'd like to talk with, let them hear your recording, and if that person is home, the two of you could be having fun planning your first date together tonight. Or, you can leave them messages in their Voicemail boxes and let them call you back. The only charge for our service is $1.99 per minute billed to your monthly phone bill, and, of course, you must be 18 or older to call.

By Mail: Place each response in a STAMPED envelope with the code number marked CLEARLY on the front. Put your response in a larger envelope, along with $5.00 per response and mail to:

Regal Eagles
1001 W. Mitchell St. Suite 101
Arlington, TX 76013

2. To get your FREE voicemail box

Simply call 1-800-ROMANCE Ext 1001. Our operators will quickly assist you in making your own FREE voice recording and assign you a personal recording number so that you can meet other singles.

3. To place your ad

Simply call 1-800-ROMANCE (1-800-766-2623) Ext 1001. Our operators will help you compose an ad, and we'll be happy to include it in the next available issue.

4. Retrieve your own VoiceMail messages by calling 1-900-884-4777 ($1.99 per min.), 24 hours a day, 7 days per week.

For more information, call Singles Telephone Company at 1-800-ROMANCE Ext 1001. You can leave voicemail messages and pick up your voicemail messages 24 hours a day. You can use our unique "QuickConnect" system from 9AM-10PM Monday-Saturday, and Noon to 10PM on Sundays. Have fun finding your "Perfect Match"!
